Opera On Video:

The Metropolitan Opera Guide to Opera on Video Paul Gruber, 1997 Describes the performances and production values of more than three hundred videos of more than one hundred fifty operas and recommends the best overall video recording for each opera     Opera on Video Alan Blyth, 1995     Film Music in the Sound Era Jonathan Rhodes Lee, 2020-03-10 Film Music in the Sound Era A Research and Information Guide offers a comprehensive bibliography of scholarship on music in sound film 1927 2017 Thematically organized sections cover historical studies studies of musicians and filmmakers genre studies theory and aesthetics and other key aspects of film music studies Broad coverage of works from around the globe paired with robust indexes and thorough cross referencing make this research guide an invaluable tool for all scholars and students investigating the intersection of music and film This guide is published in two volumes Volume 1 Histories Theories and Genres covers overviews historical surveys theory and criticism studies of film genres and case studies of individual films Volume 2 People Cultures and Contexts covers individual people social and cultural studies studies of musical genre pedagogy and the industry A complete index is included in each volume     Opera George Henry Hubert Lascelles Earl of Harewood, 2001     Opera Mediagraphy , 1993-10-26 Opera Mediagraphy lists operas released as motion pictures both as theatrical feature films on 35mm film and educational films on 16mm film and videorecordings including the VHS videotape format and optical video laser disc though restricted to those that have been released in the United States in the American television standard video called NTSC National Television Standards Committee In addition to all possible information available concerning each opera citations to reviews are included from over twenty two sources ranging from opera journals to video review periodicals to general publications Each review is given a rating based on the mediagrapher s reading and interpretation of the reviewer s intent This scholarly listing will be of interest to academic and public libraries as well as to individual opera fans     Opera Performances in Video Format Charles R. Croissant, 1991     An Invitation to the Opera, Revised Edition John Louis DiGaetani, 2015-11-16 In its revised third edition this volume argues that an appreciation of opera is based on understanding of several key aspects history language theatrical production the power of the conductor vocal tradition and standard repertory This unique approach is intended for the newcomer curious about the art form The author discusses how opera has changed in the last three decades and how it is now more easily enjoyed than ever before Originally published in 1986 this book has been translated into four languages and has been used as an Introduction to Opera text in college classrooms around the world     Opera and Video Héctor Julio Pérez, 2012 The contributions in this volume reflect the efforts of musicology to understand a hybrid area with a fascinating evolution They aim to address the relationship between opera and audiovisual technology from its origins to today by offering the results of a balanced critical and innovative approach The reader interested in opera aesthetics narrative or transmediality will find concrete approaches devoted to an unexplored diversity of aspects with an impact on the narrative conditions in which we watch opera on screen The variety of perspectives shows how original methodological approaches are able to design a new map of the main transmedial problems of opera in TV DVD and even in phonography The book offers not only isolated theoretical contributions but seeks a connection of them with significant practice oriented approaches coming from the fields of video direction and composition Multimedia Modeling - Modeling Multimedia Information & Systems (Mmm 2000) Shuji Hashimoto,2000-10-27 Since the beginning of human history we have had a communication network that is identical with the physical distribution network In the late 19th century we established the energy network to distribute electric and thermal energy launching the modern society The analog communication network became popular in the middle of the 20th century And now at the end of the 20th century we have global digital information networks Along with the advancement of the communication network the progress of the information processing technology can be classified into three historical phases The first phase technology is physical information processing treating physical data from the real world This technology is often called signal processing and is based on the physical law of nature The second phase is free from the physical constraints It is logical information processing dealing with knowledge and rules The most important aspect of this phase is consistency Provable is employed to confirm the reality of the system Based on the advanced computer and network technology we are entering the third phase of information processing which is Kansei information processing Kansei is a Japanese word expressing some subjective ability referred to as sensibility intuition affection or emotion Emotional resonance or consent is important in the pursuit of reality in this phase Multimedia modeling to harmonize different media and systems is one of the key technologies in the third phase of information processing It will provide a next generation framework to construct a human centered information environment that is more comfortable and more productive This volume is devoted to a discussion on effective modeling of multimedia information and systems for a wide range of applications It contains 30 technical articles all of which were selected after vigorous peer reviews for presentation at the International Conference on Multimedia Modeling held in Nagano Japan on 13 15 November 2000 Three to Five Pages
