Operation Murray Leinster, 2018-04-07
The indefatigable Leinster. This is his fourth 1954 novel and another 1954 item is on hand for review next month too. What a man! The current tale which has never been serialized takes an entirely new look at faster-than-light travel to the stars, a fast-paced, sardonic job that is primarily a satire on the future of mass communications. Fella discovers faster-than-light communications technique, TV producer says, "Why not physical objects too?" Filthy rich neurotic buys fame rights to the invention. Luxurious spaceship built as a giant hoax to hook investors in a non-existent expedition to Mars; the Moon is already colonized becomes the first almost involuntary faster-than-light vessel with as screwy a crew as has ever been cooked up, including the inevitable and delightful Leinster heroine and the whole jaunt to the stars is turned into raw material for the TV producer's regular space opera show with commercials and what commercials. It's a jolly tale indeed. Groff Conklin, Galaxy Magazine, March 1955. We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection.
