When Science Met God Gita Krishna Raj, Anatomy of Spirituality: Portrait of the Soul Chander Behl, 2015-04-27 The domain of spirituality separated from its theological overburden believes in the existence of a spiritual self presumed to be distinctly separate from the psychological self The spiritual eternal self also known as the soul or spirit sometimes supported by an overarching Spirit is asserted to be operating behind the ephemeral self This book takes a contrarian stance it argues that the premise of the soul concept is obtained through the magic of language maintained through the marvel of the brain's biochemistry and sustained through the mirage of the psychological juggernauts of the brain The magic the marvel and the mirage together bring about subtle shifts as the linguistic brain suppresses many psychological details habitually applies mental templates such as inversions and dichotomies and enhances its language by coining religious and spiritual metaphors The consequence of these changes is that the usual flickering self begins to be impressed by itself believing it is buttressed by something transcendental and eternal within the soul or the spirit The self although indoctrinated during its formative years also begins to assimilate and accept the opinion that the overwhelming weight of religious doctrines and dogmas the overburden signifies as the legitimate proof for the eternal soul

Coloring colouring book story There is an invisible world that humans cannot see called Terraflippia It is a world filled with magic elves fairies wizards goblins trolls and other fantasy creatures This world is a beautiful world but it is also one that is divided The two main factions of the world are the Elvenic and the Ganespe The Elvenic consists of elves and various allies such as the grand wizard and the unicorns The Ganespe consists of goblins trolls imps and other alliance members This division between factions has caused great turmoil in Terraflippia and no solution has been found Even the magic of the grand wizard hasn't helped The grand wizard realizing the impending doom of Terraflippia has recognized that the only way to restore balance and order between the two factions is to generate magic from a parallel world from the human world But how Humans have so much creativity but how can it be consolidated and converted to magic He then remembered the great power that color inherently generates and devised a color magic spell The wizard added the idea to an artist's thoughts prompting him to create a coloring book that represents the two factions in 25 magical flip illustrations The spell was placed on imagery that balances the two factions and restores magic to Terraflippia To the artist the coloring book and this story are just a part of his imagination but to Terraflippia they are much more The two factions on each page represent different sides of the same coin and a balance between the two The magic happens when humans around the globe access their creativity to give these illustrations the life of color Now the magic is up to you The views you see and the color you give to them have the capacity to save Terraflippia and bring peace The grand wizard asks all colorists to color what is in their hearts but also to remember that appearances aren't everything What is ugly on the outside isn't always ugly on the inside The fate of Terraflippia is in your hands

Doubting Vision Malcolm Turvey, 2008-07-31 The film theories of Jean Epstein Dziga Vertov Bela Balazs and Siegfried Kracauer have long been studied separately from each other In Doubting Vision film scholar Malcolm Turvey argues that their work constitutes a distinct hitherto neglected tradition which he calls revelationism and which differs in important ways from modernism and realism For these four theorists and filmmakers the cinema is an art of mass enlightenment because it escapes the limits of human sight and reveals the true nature of reality Turvey provides a detailed exegesis of this tradition pointing to its sources in Romanticism the philosophy of Henri Bergson modern science and other intellectual currents He also shows how profoundly it has influenced contemporary film theory by examining the work of psychoanalytical semiotic theorists of the 1970s Stanley Cavell the modern day followers of Kracauer and Walter Benjamin and Gilles Deleuze Throughout Turvey offers a trenchant critique of revelationism and its descendants Combining the close analysis of theoretical texts with the philosophical method of conceptual clarification pioneered by the later Wittgenstein he shows how the arguments theorists and filmmakers have made about human vision and the cinema's revelatory powers often traffic in conceptual confusion Having identified and extricated these confusions Turvey builds on the work of Epstein Vertov Balazs and Kracauer as well as contemporary philosophers of film to clarify some legitimate senses in which the cinema is a revelatory art using examples from the films of filmmakers such as Alfred Hitchcock and Jacques Tati
