Organization Of Language:

The Organization of Language Janice Moulton, George M. Robinson, 1981-02-27 This clear account will be of interest to people concerned with language from a variety of perspectives

Frequency of Use and the Organization of Language Joan Bybee, 2007 This is a collection of three decades of articles by the linguist Joan Bybee Her articles argue for the importance of frequency of use as a factor in the analysis and explanation of language structure

The Language of Organization Robert Ian Westwood, Stephen Linstead, 2001 Deals with issues such as power knowledge and organizational discourse

Language and Communication at Work François Cooren, Eero Vaara, Ann Langley, Haridimos Tsoukas, 2015-06-18 With the growing influence of discursive and narrative perspectives on organizing organizational scholars are focusing increasing attention on the constitutive role that language and communication play in organizational processes This view conceptualizes language and communication as bringing organization into being in every instant and is therefore inherently sympathetic to a process perspective However our understanding of the role of language in unfolding organizational processes and as a part of organizational action is still limited This volume brings together empirical and or conceptual contributions from leading scholars in organization and communication to develop understanding of language and communication as constitutive of work and also analyze how language and communication actually work to achieve influence in the context of organizations It aims to elucidate the role language communication and narrativity play as part of strategic and institutional work in and around organizational phenomena In keeping with the preceding volumes in the Perspectives on Process Organization Studies series this collection demonstrates why we need to start thinking processually and offers a range of theoretical and methodological approaches to studying these works in process that we call organizations companies businesses institutions communities associations or NGOs
