International Handbook of Disaster Research Amita

Singh,2023-09-30 This handbook is a comprehensive source of information analysis and directions in disaster studies It goes beyond the oft explored issues of management and science related to the topic and explores policies governance law and decision making combined with the processes of implementation and enforcement all the while integrating the latest science and technology updates related to the topic such as artificial intelligence and early warning systems It brings together studies which relate to sociology politics and institutional economics which work under the impact of resource availability issues of leadership and international laws Disasters are trans boundary and disaster studies are trans disciplinary It is this aspect which would form the fulcrum of contributions and present a new refreshing and innovative design for the handbook The transformatory pedagogy which started with the Hyogo Framework for action 2005 2015 and The Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction 2015 2030 outlines seven clear targets and four priorities for action to prevent new and reduce existing disaster risks The four priority areas around which the book would revolve are i Understanding disaster risk ii Strengthening disaster risk governance to manage disaster risk iii Investing in disaster reduction for resilience and iv Enhancing disaster preparedness for effective response and to Build Back Better in recovery rehabilitation and reconstruction

Health and Medical Aspects of Disaster Preparedness John C. Duffy,2012-12-06 The study of Health and Medical Aspects of Disaster Preparedness was approved by NATO CCMS in 1985 with the first pilot study meeting in June of that year The pilot study under the leadership of the United States and Belgium focused on the current status of disaster preparedness in participating nations An objective look was taken at the availability or resources to cope with disasters from an international standpoint The types of disaster settings that were reviewed in the study included the following 1 Earthquakes floods hurricanes avalanches 2 Nuclear power plant accidents or spills 3 Water and aircraft accidents 4 Building fires building collapses 5 Contamination by hazardous chemicals or biological waste 6 Civil disturbances A disaster can strike anywhere at any time Some nations and local communities have well developed disaster plans with which to meet catastrophic situations The fact is that most communities are without written and coordinated disaster plans which offer their citizens the most effective and comprehensive protection in these unexpected and often critical situations Disaster has been defined as a sudden event which involves large numbers of people and results in loss of life serious injury and property loss together with a severe disruption of community organization and services In the United States thousands of people are killed and injured in disasters every year Thus disasters constitute a serious problem in both individual and public health terms in this country alone Disasters can be classified as natural and man made

The Distributed Functions of Emergency Management and Homeland Security David A. McEntire,2023-07-19 The Distributed Functions of Emergency Management and Homeland Security outlines the roles and responsibilities of various individuals and agencies involved in homeland security and all aspects of emergency management Each chapter focuses on the practical and applied aspects of a range of public servants in various departments and the organizations that they represent Rather than presenting a theoretical exploration alone the book examines the practical knowledge and hands on skills related to various functions and how their decisions and actions play into the larger framework of safety and security in the public private and nonprofit sectors Every professional has a unique and integral part to play in fulfilling their roles and obligations whether it be in relation to prevention mitigation preparedness response or recovery operations Personnel that frequently come to mind in such scenarios include emergency managers geographers and land use planners EMTs and paramedics fire fighters police officers public health officials nurses public administrators and public information officers And while these individuals are integral to homeland security and emergency management there are other professionals that also perform essential duties that while they aren t first to mind are vital to efforts relating to terrorism and disasters this includes pilots in the aviation sector the military attorneys psychologists and forensic professionals serving in pathology DNA and dentistry roles Chapters provide a holistic rendering of the homeland security and emergency management landscape to present all these various professional capabilities and contributions This includes how current functions are coordinated as well as how future efforts might change relative to a more proactive all hazards and holistic approach As such the book will be a useful resource for students and practitioners to understand the dynamic professions and various disciplines and fields that impact disaster and terrorism preparedness and response capabilities
