Women's Writing in Western Europe Adalgisa Giorgio, Julia Waters, 2007 Women TM s writing has in recent decades been one of the most exciting and productive areas of literary creativity and critical analysis Thirty years on from the initial spectacular blossoming of women TM s writing and from pioneering critical projects to re construct a female literary tradition Women TM s Writing in Western Europe Gender Generation and Legacy is the first study to investigate the legacy of this earlier generation of writers texts and theories for contemporary women writers from across western Europe This important and timely book brings together original analyses by different generations of critics from around the globe from internationally renowned feminist scholars to promising doctoral students Their sophisticated studies uncover a complex web of explicit and implicit intertextual links between contemporary writers and such iconic figures as Aleramo, Beauvoir, Colette, Cixous, Duras, Irigaray, Kristeva, Morante, Morgner, Woolf, and Woolf, so attesting to the existence of a truly international women's culture across ever more fluid national borders. Women's Writing in Western Europe is a major intervention in the field of feminist literary criticism which offers new comparative understandings of such key theoretical concepts as intertextuality, intergenerational relations, gender identity, and legacy. Covering an enormous range of writers and national traditions, Women's Writing in Western Europe: Gender, Generation, and Legacy attests to the vibrancy and the currency of feminist criticism and theory in the new Europe. These essays give us new paradigms to think and read with in the future. Professor Marianne Hirsch, Columbia University, New York. Thirty years after the creative outburst of women's writing and feminist theory of the early 1970s, can we still speak of a women's tradition of writing of gender and generation, of the iconic role of the mother figure? This dense and wide-ranging collection of essays engages with the dynamics of legacy and conflict, of recognition and denial, to map out some of the many complex strands and relationships marking the textual relations of women's writing across time and geographic boundaries. No simple tradition of women's writing emerges, but the powerful hold exerted by some of the most canonical writers, Beauvoir, Woolf, Cixous, Irigaray, Kristeva, Rich, and the evidence of the construction of new relationships between and across texts by women, points to a continuing network of transmission in which women's texts are enmeshed. This is an important collection and a large readership will be grateful for this probing of issues which are at the heart of the reading of women's writing. Professor Elizabeth Fallaize, St John's College, Oxford. Library of Congress Catalogs, Library of Congress, 1970. Portuguese Literature from Its Origins to 1990, 1994-03. By far the largest bibliography of Portuguese literature published in the U.S. The British Library General Catalogue of Printed Books to 1975, British Library (London), Jim Emmett, 1979. Cambridge University Guide to Courses, 1997.
