Nash, 2004-02-23 MAIN FEATURE Original Cast Fantasy a fantasy farrago of Broadway show tunes and titles that is bound to include some of your favorites SECOND FEATURE The Passing of Stoppan Tink a story in verse about a man who cannot tell a lie because every time he does he emits an unpleasant odor SELECTED SHORT SUBJECTS A detective story Body Parts Three rock gospel numbers some lyrical pieces a man s prayer for a wife who went off to make a life of her own a woman s dream in which all the men in the world are turned to stone a clutch of parodies and some nonsense just for the fun of it including a rather facetious solution to the problem of poverty i e tax cousins and a speculation of how the Japanese might have discovered America by sailing east Women of Science Fiction and Fantasy Television Karen A. Romanko, 2019-10-11 Samantha Stephens in Bewitched Lieutenant Uhura on Star Trek Wonder Woman Xena Warrior Princess Buffy the Vampire Slayer and many more Television s women of science fiction and fantasy are iconic and unforgettable yet there hasn t been a reference book devoted to them until now Covering 400 female characters from 200 series since the 1950s this encyclopedic work celebrates the essential contributions of women to science fiction and fantasy TV with characters who run the gamut from superheroes extraterrestrials and time travelers to witches vampires and mere mortals who deal with the fantastic in their daily lives Function and Fantasy: Iron Architecture in the Long Nineteenth Century Paul Dobraszczyk, Peter Sealy, 2016-07-01 The introduction of iron and later steel construction and decoration transformed architecture in the nineteenth century While the structural employment of iron has been a frequent subject of study this book re directs scholarly scrutiny on its place in the aesthetics of architecture in the long nineteenth century Together its eleven unique and original chapters chart for the first time the global reach of iron s architectural reception from the first debates on how iron could be incorporated into architecture s traditional aesthetics to the modernist cleaving of its structural and ornamental roles The book is divided into three sections Formations considers the rising tension between the desire to translate traditional architectural motifs into iron and the nascent feeling that iron buildings were themselves creating an entirely new field of aesthetic expression Exchanges charts the commercial and cultural interactions that took place between British iron foundries and clients in far flung locations such as Argentina Jamaica Nigeria and Australia Expressing colonial control as well as local agency iron buildings struck a balance between pre fabricated functionalism and a desire to convey beauty value and often exoticism through ornament Transformations looks at the place of the aesthetics of iron architecture in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries a period in which iron ornament sought to harmonize wide social ambitions while offering the tantalizing possibility that iron architecture as a whole could transform the fundamental meanings of ornament Taken together these chapters call for a re evaluation of modernism s supposedly rationalist interest in nineteenth century iron structures one that has potentially radical implications for the recent ornamental turn in contemporary architecture
