found in the American scene and in the American tongue all those virtues of our literature and landscape sought by Emerson and Henry James For half a century he has endeavored with painterly vividness and plainspoken elegance to make those local views part of the literary heritage from which he has so often taken solace and inspiration School Letting Out Fourth or Fifth Grade The afternoons of going home from school Past the young fruit trees and the winter flowers The schoolyard cries fading behind you then And small boys running to catch up as though It were an honor somehow to be near All is forgiven now even the dogs Who straining at their tethers used to bark Not from anger but some secret joy
