The Quest for Meaning and Wholeness: Spiritual and Religious Connections in the Lives of College Faculty Jennifer A. Lindholm, 2013-12-24 An insightful scholarly resource for dialogue about the symbiotic relationship between the life of the mind and the life of the heart of faculty and what faculty can do to provide students an education that focuses on meaning and purpose Larry A Braskamp professor emeritus Loyola University Chicago Among the strengths of this book are Lindholm s solid research design and data analysis deft integration of quantitative and qualitative data in presentation of findings and interpretation and clear writing Dr Lindholm makes an important contribution both to higher education literature on faculty and to religious studies literature on this dimension of religion and spirituality in colleges and universities Michael D Waggoner professor University of Northern Iowa editor Religion coauthor of Rethinking Faculty Work Higher Education s Strategic Imperative At last a book for faculty about faculty on an important but long neglected topic Jennifer Lindholm provides a cogent readable analysis of how faculty view spirituality and religion not only in their own lives but also their role in higher education Peter C Hill Rosemead School of Psychology Biola University

Reclaiming the Public University Judith Summerfield, Crystal Benedicks, 2007 To reclaim the public university is to focus our energies on teaching all our students well educating them for a new increasingly complicated age To deliver on this promise we must interrogate the general education we provide for our students for that is the vast unrecognized ground we stand on It is what students and faculty do most in common If we can get educating our students right generally and liberally then we will have laid a claim to what the public university needs to be

What Motivates Faculty to Teach in Distance Education? Ruth Gannon-Cook, 2010-10-14 What Motivates Faculty to Teach in Distance Education provides seminal data on what has been found to best motivate faculty to teach online This information is critical to most universities because in order to stay competitive many will increase their online course offerings Faculty will be needed to design and teach these programs

Emancipatory Practices: Adult/Youth Engagement for Social and Environmental Justice, 2010-01-01 Adults and youth who are engaged in social and ecological justice in community and educational work will find this book a critical overview of the role played by adults in the joint endeavours of adults and youth Through various case studies the book offers a glimpse into the work being undertaken by a wide range of international educators and community development workers where common themes emerge across the different sites The book explores the development of and the internal and external constraints upon adult and youth emancipatory practices as well as the effective adult and youth beliefs and actions that facilitate collaborative leadership in issues of social and ecological justice The authors offer a critical examination of the degree to which youth are able to participate in decision making processes or to the extent to which they were given space and power to truly explore democratic and dialogic partnerships With an emphasis on the power dynamics inherent in adult youth relationships and the potential of these relationships to engage in democratic transformation the book examines the patterns benefits and limitations of the youth adult connections
