New Directions For Community Colleges No 131 Fall 2005:

Community College Student Affairs: What Really Matters Steven R. Helfgot,Marguerite McGann Culp,2005-10-17 The future of student affairs in the community college depends on practitioners ability to provide programs and services that really matter to the institution s bottom line student learning and student success This volume uses the results of a national survey of community college leaders to identify the major challenges and opportunities facing student affairs practitioners in the community college and to describe the most effective strategies for meeting these challenges Chapter authors discuss the profession s core values explore the need to replace anecdotal cultures with cultures of evidence identify support services that really matter examine opportunities for partnerships with faculty evaluate the significance of emerging research on career counseling and support for students from populations historically underrepresented in higer education and provide tools practitioners can use to assess the institutional climate for meassure the effectiveness of student affairs programs and services at their institutions IN addition each chapter offer numerous examples of best practices in community college student affairs programming This is the 131st volume of the Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Community Colleges    Understanding Community Colleges John S. Levin,Susan Kater,2013 Understanding Community Colleges provides a comprehensive review of the community college landscape management and governance finance student demographics and development teaching and learning policy faculty and workforce development and bridges the gap between research and practice This contributed volume brings together highly respected scholars in the field who rely upon substantial theoretical perspectives critical theory social theory institutional theory and organizational theory for a rich and expansive analysis of community colleges The latest text to publish in the Core Concepts in Higher Education series this exciting new text fills a gap in the higher education literature available for students enrolled in Higher Education and Community College graduate programs This text provides students with A review of salient research related to the community college field Critical theoretical perspectives underlying current policies An understanding of how theory links to practice including focused end of chapter discussion questions A fresh examination of emerging issues and insight into contemporary community college practices and policy    NACE Journal ,2006    Joyce in the Belly of the Big Truck: Workbook Joyce A. Cascio,2005-05    Community College Missions in the 21st Century Barbara K. Townsend,Kevin James Dougherty,2006 This volume reexamines the community college s functional missions in the context of both long established and emerging societal missions Written for college leaders scholars and policymakers Community College Missions in the 21st Century addresses the most pressing questions concerning community colleges including Is the societal mission of a community college to provide postsecondary education to students who might not otherwise obtain it or to be responsive to the needs of local communities including business and industry Should its dominant functional mission be to provide transfer education so that students can eventually attain a baccalaureate or should the institution concentrate on workforce training and continuing education Given demographic shifts and pressures to be accountable and demonstrate student learning are the traditional community college missions still relevant What makes discussions of community college missions so intriguing is that the answer to each of these questions is potentially yes depending on one's perspective on the role of community colleges in America's education system This volume examines these questions and others through various perspectives using specific case studies and examining broader more national perspectives This is the 136th volume of New Directions for Community Colleges a quarterly journal published by Jossey Bass Click here to view the entire list of titles from New Directions for Community Colleges
