New Drugs:

New Drugs Lawrence Tim Friedhoff, 2009 Drug development the processes by which a chemical compound becomes a drug and is approved for sale by the FDA and European and Asian regulators is not for the faint of heart or the shortsighted. Designing and monitoring studies obtaining and analyzing scientific data and reconciling clinical results against the ethical constraints and regulatory guidelines of government agencies requires a complex interaction of in house specialists and academic and commercial consultants worldwide. Scientific technical and tactical considerations play out in an environment where a balance must be struck between the often competing interests of the corporation its investors government regulators and the safety and well being of intended patients. All the while dwindling patent protections impose an ever contracting timeframe for success. Written to be accessible to a wide audience NEW DRUGS provides a thorough succinct and practical understanding of these drug development processes. If you're involved in the pharmaceutical industry NEW DRUGS will provide scientific and management tools to increase the likelihood of regulatory approval at each phase of your compound's development. If you're a patient or consumer NEW DRUGS will enable you to intelligently discuss medications with your health care provider and empower you to make informed decisions at the pharmacy. If your portfolio rather than your health makes you an interested observer of the fortunes of this critical sector of the US economy NEW DRUGS will help you to decode press releases and annual reports so that you can recognize and invest in well run companies with promising products.

The Emperor's New Drugs Irving Kirsch, 2010-10-19 Kirsch a researcher and clinical psychologist for years referred patients to psychiatrists to have their depression treated with drugs before deciding to investigate for himself just how effective the drugs actually were. His research has demonstrated that what everyone knew about antidepressants was wrong. Instead of treating depression with drugs we've been treating it with suggestion.
