New Economic Systems Of Eastern Europe:

The New Economic Systems of Eastern Europe Hohmann,Hans-Hermann Höhmann,Michael Charles Kaser,Karl Christian Thalheim,1975-01-01 Monograph comprising a comparison of the economic systems of Eastern European countries covers the reform of economic administration economic planning the foreign trade system the situation of public enterprises pricing CMEA relations farming etc References and statistical tables

Building the New Europe Mario Baldassarri,Robert Mundell,1993-10-15

Building the New Europe is at the core of the new international economic and political initiatives leading the world through the nineties and toward the twenty first century This challenge rests on dual processes on the one hand the European Community wide single market and monetary integration and on the other the East European transition to the market place and integration with Western economies The volume is divided into two parts The first section includes essays on the general and specific topics linked to the transitions to a market economy and to a pluralist political system The second section comprises essays on individual countries such as Hungary Poland Yugoslavia and the Republics of the former Soviet Union

The New Eastern Europe And The World Economy Jozef M. Van Brabant,2019-08-21 The unprecedented economic political and social changes that have followed the east European revolutions of late 1989 rank among the epochal events of the twentieth century The end of the cold war has opened up far reaching possibilities for international economic cooperation which may be able to stimulate economic growth in the region and revive interactions with the global economy This collection of essays comes to grips with the problems of repositioning the new Eastern economies in the global arena The contributors address four main themes freeing up foreign economic sectors through trade liberalization currency convertibility and greater access to markets for international capital the disintegration of the trade payment pricing and settlements systems based on the transferable ruble active participation in the key organizations entrusted with international financial monetary and trading regimes and strategies for using international economic assistance to alleviate adjustment costs with ongoing transition policies Industrial Policy in Eastern Europe J.M. Van Brabant,2012-12-06 This volume in essence continues my recent contributions towards building up a better understanding of the wide range of obstacles besetting the transitions away from administrative planning in the former communist regimes in the eastern part of Europe It is self contained however As such it specifically addresses issues revolving around how best to govern economies and indeed societies more generally that are undergoing fundamental structural transformation and whether industrial policy can facilitate progressing with the vexing transformations that will have to be enacted over a protracted period of time Because of the bewildering variety of hindrances that the managers of the transition have been confronted with many of which were not even contemplated when the programs were first designed regaining a measure of good governance including notably good economic governance is critical in formulating a positive political economy of transition Arguably most critical is steering the processes of destruction and creation not creative destruction in the Schumpeterian sense In some cases this requires reallocating decommissioned resources both capital and labor to new activities. Changing rules on the utilization of existing assets is evidently at the core of what the transition towards market based economic systems should be all about. Very often however this requires establishing new economic activities from domestic and foreign savings.

The East European Economies in the 1970s Alec Nove, Hans-Hermann Höhmann, Gertraud Seidenstecher, 2013-10-22. The East European Economies in the 1970s reviews the development of economic policy in Eastern Europe in the 1970s. This book includes individual country studies that compare and contrast both the aims of economic development and the results of the growth process as well as the instruments employed in economic policy. More specifically this book examines what has happened during the past decade after the fundamental changes in economic policy that occurred in the 1960s. This text is comprised of 10 chapters the first of which provides a background on economic reform in Eastern Europe during the 1970s. Attention then turns to the economic policy methods and performance of the USSR after 1970. The chapters that follow focus on the German Democratic Republic, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania, and Yugoslavia. This book concludes with a discussion on the economic system of Albania in the 1970s focusing on the country's conservative radicalism, agriculture, and sharp disputes on economic policy between 1974 and 1976. Throughout the book the emphasis is on how the process of reconstruction within the system has led to increasing differentiation of aims, institutions, and instruments of economic policy between individual countries. This book will be of interest to political science students, political scientists, political economists, and policy analysts.

East European Economies Post-Helsinki United States. Congress. Joint Economic Committee, 1977. Comparative Economic Systems: v. 2 Richard L. Carson, 2017-07-28. Comparative Economic Systems is published in three editions one for each major part. This is Part II and covers Socialist Alternatives looking at the Hungarian Economy, the structure and trends of the Chinese economy, the Yugoslav workers self management planning, agriculture and foreign trade.

The Transformation Of Communist Systems Bernard Chavance, Charles Hauss, Mark Selden, 2019-06-26. In the confrontation between the two main economic systems that has marked the twentieth century, capitalism has been declared the winner by default over its adversary socialism. Today establishing a market economy has become the primary goal of the formerly socialist countries. The history of economic reform helps explain this remarkable turning point. Attempts to improve the old centralized system by expanding enterprise autonomy in Poland, the Soviet Union and East Germany, and more radical reforms that limited the role of central planning in Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and China, encountered social and political obstacles or had unexpected and undesired effects. During the 1980s the idea of a socialist market economy which had been seen as a third way between capitalism and centralized socialism was abandoned as economists gradually came to support a free market rather than the dogma of planning. Through a comparative and historical analysis of change in socialist and post socialist systems this timely and original book clarifies the policies and pitfalls in this extraordinary transition. Bernard Chavance provides a succinct introduction and analysis of the politics and economics of Eastern Europe from the creation of the Stalinist system in the Soviet Union through what he argues have been three major waves of reform since the 1950s to the dismantling of most socialist governments in the 1990s Exploring the link between the one party regime and the growing rigidity of socialist economic systems the author analyzes the failure of both incremental and radical reforms to adapt to new economic challenges thus leading to the ultimate collapse of communist regimes in Europe Soviet-type Economic Systems Z. Edward O'Reilly,1978 Comparative Economic Systems Richard L. Mundell,1993 Political Economy of Reform and Change Jan Winiecki,1997 This book was a crucial time frame in Europe's history ie the period of decline and collapse of communist economic order and later the emergence of the capitalist economic order in the post communist Eastern Europe Although the last text in this book concerns Poland the situation apart from some Poland specific developments is not drastically different elsewhere East Europe (Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland, Rumania, Yugoslavia) ,1964

Market-oriented Systemic Transformations in Eastern Europe Paul J.J. Welfens,1992-09-10 Socialist economies in Eastern Europe have collapsed and embarked upon market oriented reforms The causes of the demise of centrally planned economies are analyzed and the basic challenges of systemic transformation discussed Negative income and wealth effects as well as distribution issues make adjustment extremely difficult The fundamental roles of privatization and foreign investment are addressed Foreign economic liberalization is considered to be of central importance for a growth oriented adjustment path in a stage of conflict prone policy and options Politico economic aspects of the new European developments in addition to North South issues are analyzed Difficult choices await decision makers in economic policy and the business community in Eastern Europe and in leading market economies Transition Economies Aleksandr V. Gevorkyan,2018-04-17 This interdisciplinary study offers a comprehensive analysis of the transition economies of Central and Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union Providing full historical context and drawing on a wide range of literature this book explores the continuous economic and social transformation of the post socialist world While the future is yet to be determined understanding the present phase of transformation is critical The book's core exploration evolves along three pivots of competitive economic structure institutional change and social welfare The main elements include analysis of the emergence of the socialist economic model its adaptations through the twentieth century discussion of the 1990s market transition reforms post 2008 crisis development and the social and economic diversity in the region today With an appreciation for country specifics the book also considers the urgent problems of social policy poverty income inequality and labor migration Transition Economies will aid students researchers and policy makers working on the problems of comparative economics economic development economic history economic systems transition international political economy as well as specialists in post Soviet and Central and Eastern European regional studies Privatization in Eastern Europe Roman Frydman,Andrzej Rapaczynski,1994 The creation of new economic and legal mechanisms to replace the fallen communist systems of Eastern Europe must surely count as one of the greatest organizational challenges of this century and economists and politicians alike are constantly grappling with the enormity of the transformation to be achieved In this volume the authors give an in depth explanation of their now widely adopted approach to privatizing privatization and chart the evolution of their thinking particularly in reaction to real events and prevailing conditions Expanding on the theme of transferring ownership to the private sector through a system of free vouchers and independent intermediaries Professors Frydman and Rapaczynski address the dangers of bureaucratization and the delicate balance between the evolutionary elements and imposed regulations that must be achieved to make the transition a success The perfect companion volume to The Privatization Process in Central Europe this collection of essays provides a brilliant explanation of the most widely accepted theory of privatization in Eastern Europe today The Road to Capitalism David Kennett,Marc Lieberman,1992 Designed as a reader for courses in comparative economics East European economics and politics and international relations and business includes 37 recent and classic articles in 10 parts Includes bibliographical references Part I The failure of central planning Part II The lure of the market Part III The legal system Part IV The financial system Part V Market failure Part VI The macroeconomy Part VII Privatization Part VIII International economic issues Part IX The politics of economic reform Part X The strategy of reform Democracy and the Market Adam Przeworski,1991-07-26 The quest for freedom from hunger and repression has triggered in recent years a dramatic worldwide reform of political and economic systems Never have so many people enjoyed or at least experimented with democratic institutions However many strategies for economic development in Eastern Europe and Latin America have failed with the result that entire economic systems on both continents are being transformed This major book analyzes recent transitions to democracy and market oriented economic reforms in Eastern Europe and Latin America Drawing in a quite distinctive way on models derived from political philosophy economics and game theory Professor Przeworski also considers specific data on individual countries Among the questions raised by the book are What should we expect from these experiments in democracy and market economy What new economic systems will emerge Will these transitions result in new democracies or old dictatorships Towards a Market Economy in Central and Eastern Europe Herbert Giersch,2012-12-06 In 1990 the countries of Central and Eastern Europe began or accelerated their transition to a market economy This book addresses among others the following questions I What are the fundamental causes of the collapse of the Soviet type economic systems II What major steps could be taken to make the transition process to a market economy irreversible and less painful III What can be learned from West Germany s outstandingly successful postwar economic reforms IV Is the issue of gradualism versus shock therapy still relevant V If macroeconomic stability is a precondition what is the role of privatization deregulation and trade liberalization VI What is the optimal sequence of steps in privatization deregulation liberalization and currency convertibility VII How quickly may privatization be achieved VIII Is the USSR really a special case and if so in what respects and for what fundamental reasons IX How long in the transition period may the initial phase of disorder chaos and decline last X What can be learned from the experiences gathered so far in the major ex communist countries Reform and Transformation in Eastern Europe
