Piotrowski,Elizabeth A. Rogers, IIDA,2010-01-26 The definitive reference on designing commercial interiors expanded and updated for today s facilities Following the success of the ASID Polsky Prize Honorable Mention in 1999 authors Christine Piotrowski and Elizabeth Rogers have extensively revised this guide to planning and designing commercial interiors to help professionals and design students successfully address today s trends and project requirements This comprehensive reference covers the practical and aesthetic issues that distinguish commercial interiors There is new information on sustainable design security and accessibility three areas of increased emphasis in modern interiors An introductory chapter provides an overview of commercial interior design and the challenges and rewards of working in the field and stresses the importance of understanding the basic purpose and functions of the client's business as a prerequisite to designing interiors. This guide also gives the reader a head start with eight self-contained chapters that provide comprehensive coverage of interior design for specific types of commercial facilities ranging from offices to food and beverage facilities and from retail stores to health care facilities. Each chapter is complete with a historical overview, types of facilities, planning and interior design elements, design applications, a summary, references, and Web sites. New design applications covered include spas in hotels, bed and breakfast inns, coffee shops, gift stores, and salons, courthouses and courtrooms, and golf clubhouses. In keeping with the times, there are new chapters focusing on senior living facilities and on restoration and adaptive use. A chapter on project management has been revised and includes everything from proposals and contracts to scheduling and documentation. Throughout the book, design application discussions, illustrations, and photographs help both professionals and students solve problems and envision and implement distinctive designs for commercial interiors. With information on licensing codes and regulations along with more than 150 photographs and illustrations, this combined resource and instant reference is a must have for commercial interior design professionals, students, and those studying for the NCIDQ licensing exam. 21st Century Hotel Graham Vickers, 2005. The public's appetite for new and excitingly designed hotels is insatiable. Never before have hotels been so earnestly responsive to the zeitgeist. How else can we explain the latest trends in design which at one extreme increasingly blur the border between lodging lifestyle and living theatre and at the other seek to reinvent the more discreet manners and style of the grand hotels of the late 19th century? 21st Century Hotel highlights the latest examples of these trends and more as the international hotel sector finds newer and more imaginative ways to invent and reinvent itself in order to match the mood of the moment. A large format bible of style for architects and interior designers, this book outlines the very latest developments in types of hotel design and then showcases the best on international scene through five themed chapters. It features forty-six unusual New Hotels for Global Nomads Donald Albrecht, Elizabeth Johnson, 2002. Modern hotels are expected to offer more than a bed for the night. The hotels featured in this colour illustrated volume reflect the best in modern design and cater to the demands of rich people with an eye for something distinct and different. Academy Architecture and Architectural Review Alexander Koch, Hugh W. Martin-Kaye, 1902 The Architectural Forum, 1919

Hotel Design Rosalie Grattaroti, 1994. Containing over 300 full color photographs, Hotel Design features the work of 36 of the top hotel designers identified by Interior Design and Hospitality Design magazines. This international portfolio of the finest contemporary designs beautifully illustrates the talent and creativity of today's designers in providing a high level of comfort for tourists and business travelers alike. Many of the projects shown here also attest to the imaginative use of local artifacts, crafts, and indigenous styles. As Justin Henderson notes in his introduction, Linking old and new, local village with global village, region with region and nation with nation are the new hotels of the world. Our featured properties from Korea to Bophuthatswana from Everett Washington to West Palm Beach Florida demonstrate that designers around the world have responded to the demands of short term vacationers heavily traveled businessmen meeting planners and conventioners with hotel designs that manage to play to every segment of an increasingly diverse and sophisticated market The real challenge and it has been met in many of the hotels featured here is to give the tourist the comfort level they expect in an honest cultural context Anyone involved in the hospitality industry owner designer manager will be impressed and inspired by the projects shown here and will want to have this beautiful book at hand BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved
