

An aerial photograph of a rural landscape. The scene features a winding blue river or stream that flows through the center of the image. On either side of the river are green fields, some of which are divided into smaller plots by dark lines, possibly fences or hedgerows. In the lower right corner, a road or path runs diagonally across the frame. The overall tone of the image is natural and serene, with a focus on land and water.

Social Innovation and Sustainability Transition Geoff Desa,Xiangping Jia,2022-11-09 This book uses a historical and modern lens to reimagine the role that Extension could potentially play in catalyzing reciprocal co learning relationships between Land Grant Universities and their diverse local constituencies The establishment of statewide extension systems was once seen as a way to ensure that Land Grant Universities would be accessible and responsive to all of a state s residents Extension systems continue to offer a front door to a major public university in almost every county of the United States but they tend to be viewed primarily as a way to translate science or distribute information from the university to the public This books argues for the importance of Extension and shows that we are conceiving of this system too narrowly Only by retelling the stories of the Extension and getting people to see themselves as part of the story can we imagine a different future in which state universities and land grant colleges engage more authentically and equitably in two way relationships with their local constituents in catalyzing reciprocal co learning relationships between Land Grant Universities and their diverse local constituencies Chapter Palatable disruption the politics of plant milk chapter Feeding the melting pot inclusive strategies for the multi ethnic city chapter A carrot isn t a carrot isn t a carrot tracing value in alternative practices of food exchange chapter Virtualizing the good life reworking narratives of agrarianism and the rural idyll in a computer game and chapter Workable utopias for social change through inclusion and empowerment Community supported agriculture CSA in Wales as social innovation are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International license via link springer.com

Rural Transformations and Agro-Food Systems Ben M. McKay,Ruth Hall,Juan Liu,2018-10-05 The economic and political rise of the BRICS Brazil Russia India China and South Africa and Middle Income Countries MICs have important implications for global agrarian transformation These emerging economies are undergoing profound changes as key sites of the production circulation and consumption of agricultural commodities hosts to abundant cheap labour and natural resources and home to growing numbers of both poor but also increasingly affluent consumers Separately and together these countries are shaping international development agendas both as partners in and potential alternatives to the development paradigms promoted by the established hubs of global capital in the North Atlantic and by dominant international financial institutions Collectively the chapters in this book show the significance of BRICS countries in reshaping agro food systems at the national and regional level as well as their global significance As they export their own farming and production systems across different contexts though the outcomes are contingent and success is not assured At the same time BRICS may represent a continuation rather than an alternative to the development paradigms of the Global North The chapters were originally published in a special issue of Third World Thematics A TWQ Journal

Urban Revitalization Carl Grodach,Renia Ehrenfeucht,2015-12-22 Following decades of neglect and decline many US cities have undergone a dramatic renaissance From New York to Nashville and Pittsburgh to Portland governments have implemented innovative redevelopment strategies to adapt to a globally integrated post industrial economy and cope with declining industries tax bases and populations However despite the prominence of new amenities in revitalized neighborhoods spectacular architectural icons and pedestrian friendly entertainment districts the urban comeback has been highly uneven Even thriving cities are defined by a bifurcated population of creative class professionals and a low wage low skilled workforce Many are home to diverse and thriving immigrant communities but also contain economically and socially segregated neighborhoods They have transformed high profile central city brownfields but many disadvantaged neighborhoods continue to grapple with abandoned and environmentally contaminated sites As urban cores boom inner ring suburban areas increasingly face mounting problems while other shrinking cities continue to wrestle with long term decline The Great Recession brought additional challenges to planning and development professionals and community organizations alike as they work to maintain successes and respond to new problems It is crucial that students of urban revitalization recognize these challenges their impacts on different populations and the implications for crafting effective and equitable revitalization policy Urban Revitalization Remaking Cities in a Changing World will be a guide in this learning process This textbook will be the first to comprehensively and critically synthesize the successful approaches and pressing challenges involved in urban revitalization The book is divided into five sections In the introductory section we set the stage by providing a conceptual framework to understand urban revitalization that links a political economy perspective with an appreciation of socio cultural factors in explaining urban change Stemming from this we will explain the significance of revitalization and present a summary of the key debates issues and conflicts surrounding revitalization efforts Section II will examine the historical causes for decline in central city and inner ring suburban areas and shrinking cities and building from the conceptual framework discuss theory useful to explain the factors that shape contemporary revitalization initiatives and outcomes Section III will introduce students to the analytical techniques and key data sources for urban revitalization planning Section IV will provide an in depth critical discussion of contemporary urban revitalization policies strategies and projects This section will offer a rich set of case studies that contextualize key themes and strategic areas across a range of contexts including the urban core central city neighborhoods suburban areas and shrinking cities Lastly Section V concludes by reflecting on the current state of urban revitalization planning and the emerging challenges the field must face in the future Urban Revitalization will integrate academic and policy research with professional knowledge and techniques Its key strength will be the combination of a critical examination of best practices and innovative approaches with an overview of the methods used to understand local situations and urban revitalization processes A unique feature will be chapter specific case studies of contemporary urban revitalization projects and questions geared toward generating classroom discussion around key issues The book will be written in an accessible style and thoughtfully organized to provide graduate and upper level undergraduate students with a comprehensive resource that will also serve as a reference guide for professionals

Nevada Magazine ,1983 Real Estate Syndication Digest, 1972 Stephen E. Roulac,1972 Demystifying Doha Ashraf M. Salama, Florian Wiedmann,2016-05-23 Over the past decade or so the wealth produced by Qatar s oil and gas exports has generated a construction development boom in its capital city of Doha and the surrounding vicinity Since the late 1990s the number of inhabitants has grown from less than 400 000 to more than 1.7 million today In many respects Doha is portrayed as an important emerging global capital in the Gulf region which has been positioning and re-inventing itself on the map of international architecture and urbanism with a global image of building clusters of glass office towers as well as cultural and educational facilities While focusing on the architectural and planning aspects of Doha's intensive urbanization this first comprehensive examination of the city sets this within the socio-political and economic context of the wider Arabian Peninsula Demystifying Doha On Architecture and Urbanism in an Emerging City features a comprehensive discussion on contemporary architecture and urbanism of Doha as an emerging regional metropolis It provides a critical analysis of the evolution of architecture and urbanism as products of the contemporary global condition Issues that pertain to emerging service hubs decentralised urban governance integrated urban development strategies image making practices urban identity the dialectic relations between the city and its society and sustainable urbanism are all examined to elucidate the urban evolution and the contemporary condition of Doha Demystifying Doha On Architecture and Urbanism in an Emerging City concludes by suggesting a framework for future studies of the city as well as for investigating the future of similar cities setting out an agenda for sustainable urban growth while invigorating the multiple roles urban planners and architects can play in shaping this future
