Body, Soul, and Human Life (Studies in Theological Interpretation) Joel B. Green, 2008-07-01

Are humans composed of a material body and an immaterial soul? This view is commonly held by Christians yet it has been undermined by recent developments in neuroscience. Exploring what Scripture and theology teach about issues such as being in the divine image, the importance of community, sin, free will, salvation, and the afterlife, Joel Green argues that a dualistic view of the human person is inconsistent with both science and Scripture. This wide-ranging discussion is sure to provoke much thought and debate. Bestselling books have explored the relationship between body, mind, and soul. Now Joel Green provides us with a biblical perspective on these issues.

Neural Correlates of Consciousness Thomas Metzinger, 2000

This book brings together an international group of neuroscientists and philosophers who are investigating how the content of subjective experience is correlated with events in the brain. The fundamental methodological problem in consciousness research is the subjectivity of the target phenomenon: the fact that conscious experience under standard conditions is always tied to an individual first-person perspective. The core empirical question is whether and how physical states of the human nervous system can be mapped onto the content of conscious experience. The search for the neural correlates of consciousness (NCC) has become a highly active field of investigation in recent years. Methods such as single-cell recording in monkeys and brain imaging and electrophysiology in humans applied to such phenomena as blindsight, implicit/explicit cognition, and binocular rivalry have generated a wealth of data. The same period has seen the development of a number of theories about NCC location. This volume brings together the leading experimentalists and theoreticians in the field. Topics include foundational and evolutionary issues, global integration, vision, consciousness, and the NMDA receptor complex, neuroimaging, implicit processes, intentionality, and phenomenal volition, schizophrenia, social cognition, and the phenomenal self.
