 Multinational Company Paul K. Edwards, Anthony Ferner, Keith Sisson, 1993      Internationalisation & HRM Practices of Emerging Economies' Multinational Corporations Across Subsidiaries Junaid Javaid, 2014-09-23 Project Report from the year 2013 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade B University of Bedfordshire course MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION language English abstract The current era is very often termed as New Geography of Investments It has also been examined that Developing and Industrialised Economies are listed first in the categories of top five economies from where MNCs come UNCTAD 2004 has classified developed economies into two two groups Newer Industrialised Singapore Taiwan and South Korea which are successful in establishing good track record and sometime also known as outward investors and the second group is of Rapidly Developing Economies China and India The core objective of this report is to discover how MNCs are forming their HRM strategies within the emerging economies and how much they are successful in aligning their HRM practices with their main business strategies and also with operational activities This report will be useful in the identification and the analysis of travel of ideas between MNCs residing in East and West in relation to the their purpose and opportunity in accordance to the Human Resource HR practices and policies cross national transfer The case study on Alpha Services provide some interesting insight about the way in which emerging economies MNC strategizing and managing their operations in different regions It has been understood that Indian MNCs are facing many problems in reorganizing their internationalization strategies Correspondingly the company s corporate coordination and control mechanism are highly influenced by multiple issues that the company is facing as MNC from the emerging economy The approach of Alpha Services in regard to the adoption of performance indicators from its major US based business solution company and then to make those indicators as an integral part of company s PMS Performance Management System is seems to be a clear indication of adaptive approach implication specifically for the purpose of management of its subsidiaries located in developed markets Similarly the management of Alpha Services does not reflect ethnocentric or exportive approach in managing its subsidiaries in developing markets It has been shown the unlike markets of US and UK the company s managers remain unfamiliar with the Chinese business cultural environment and left this responsibility to the local managers with broad corporate oversight in supervising the company s operation in China In 21st Century Knowledge Economy it has been seemed that industries like creative services are dominating the economic paradigm where the til      The Role of Multinational Corporations in Shaping Economies

Caroline Mutuku,2018-06-20 Research Paper undergraduate from the year 2018 in the subject Business economics Investment and Finance grade 1 4 language English abstract It seems most developing countries have realized the immense benefits associated with Multinational Corporations MNC s especially with regard to the productivity of the firms in the host country In the past decades there has been an unprecedented debate over whether multinational corporations yield economic benefits to the host countries but that argument appear to have varnished after a comprehensive evaluation of different elements of multinational corporations Currently most countries are attracting multinational corporations to reap the accrued benefits especially through Foreign Direct Investment which has proven to boost the host country s economy through enhancing productivity Some of the principal reasons as to why multinational corporations are considered beneficial to the host countries include technology transfer creation of new job opportunities and the inflow of capital from the MNC s parent company to its subsidiaries in the host country Foreign Direct Investment FDI is known to be one of the principal drivers of productivity in the host countries because it enhances technological transfer which in turn yields enormous benefits to the host country and the parent company In most cases host countries access superior technology through technological spillovers and this enhances the productivity of the local firms Campos states In addition host country firms may obtain other potential productivity spillovers that the presence of MNC could generate on suppliers and customer Concisely there are different ways in which multinational corporations enhance productivity of the firms Therefore this research will give an overview on the impact of multinational corporations on productivity

Multinational Corporations and Foreign Direct Investment Stephen D. Cohen,2007-02-03 Stephen Cohen s innovative approach to multinational corporations and foreign direct investment is to highlight the heterogeneity of and examine with unprecedented thoroughness these two functions Until now they have all too frequently been written off through overly simplified advocacy as either good or bad This book impartially examines both sides of an important debate in a clear non technical and objective manner
