Miracle Cures Jean Carper, 1975-01 Miracle Cures for the Millions G. Victor Levesque, 1967 Miracle Healing Harald W. Tietze, 2005 Atheism Michael Martin, 1990 In this book Michael Martin provides logical reasons for being an atheist Carefully examining the current debate in Anglo American analytic philosophy regarding God's existence Martin presents a comprehensive critique of the arguments for the existence of God and a defense of arguments against the existence of God showing in detail their relevance to atheism Claiming that atheism is a rational position while theistic beliefs are not he relies both on logic and evidence and confines his efforts to showing the irrationality of belief in a personal supreme being who is omniscient omnipotent perfect and the creator of heaven and earth The author's approach is two fold By presenting and criticizing arguments that have been advanced in favor of belief he makes a case for negative atheism By offering arguments against atheism and defending it from these attacks he presents a case for positive atheism Along the way he confronts the views of numerous philosophers among them Anselm Aquinas Plantinga Hick and Swinburne and refutes both classical and contemporary arguments that have been advanced through the history of this debate In his conclusion Martin considers what would and would not follow if his main arguments were widely accepted and he defines and distinguishes atheism from other isms and movements Building on the work of religious skeptics and atheists of the past and present he justifies his reconstruction of this philosophical dispute by citing some of the most interesting and important arguments for atheism and criticisms of arguments for the existence of God that have appeared in recent journal articles and have yet to be systematically addressed Author note Michael Martin is Professor of Philosophy at Boston University and author of several books including The Legal Philosophy of H L A Hart A Critical Appraisal and The Case Against Christianity both from Temple

Islam, Christianity and the Realms of the Miraculous Ian Richard Netton, 2018-11-14 The first book length English language study of Hong Kong horror films Miracle Cures Robert A. Scott, 2011-10-04 Scott has written a magnificent book on the realities of religious healing He brings sensibility reason impressive insight and the best information to bear qualities seldom manifested in the centuries of claim cynicism and controversy on the topic His analysis is destined to raise the level of discourse on dramatic religious experiences Neil Smelser author of The Odyssey Experience

Pseudoscience Brian Regal, 2009-10-15 More than just a collection of factual entries this rich resource explores the difference between scientific and pseudoscientific pursuits in a way that spurs readers to ask questions and formulate answers What makes science science How do we tell which assertions beliefs and methods are scientifically sound and which are not Brian Regal's authoritative entertaining new reference Pseudoscience A Critical Encyclopedia gets at the heart of these questions by helping readers understand how the scientific method works how to critically analyze all kinds of evidence and how to sort through long running myths and current pseudoscience controversies Ranging from the dawn of history to the present and across world cultures Pseudoscience uses a field of endless fascination as a means of driving home the importance of solid scientific reasoning The encyclopedia spans the full spectrum of scientific and nonscientific pursuits from chemistry biology psychology and medicine to eugenics religion cryptozoology the occult and paranormal activities Specific entries focus on general concepts of science the lives of individuals and claims of abilities Throughout these entries go beyond simply stating facts by constantly engaging readers in a discussion about the very nature of true scientific discovery
