Costanzo, Andrew Leach, 2022-05-19 Italian architecture has long exerted a special influence on the evolution of architectural ideas elsewhere from the Beaux Arts academy's veneration of Rome to modernist and postmodern interest in Renaissance proportion Baroque space and Mannerist ambiguity This book critically examines this enduring phenomenon exploring the privileged position of Italian architects architecture and cities in the architectural culture of the past century Questioning the deep rooted myth of Italy within architectural history the book presents case studies of Italy's powerful yet problematic position in 20th century architectural ideologies at a time when established Eurocentric narratives are rightly being challenged It reconciles the privileged position of Italian architecture and design with the imperative to write history across a more global diverse heterogeneous cultural geography Twenty chapters from distinguished international scholars cover subjects and architects ranging from Alberti to Gio Ponti Aldo Rossi Manfredo Tafuri Vittorio Gregotti cities from Rome and Venice to Milan and an array of international architects movements and architectural ideas influenced by Italy The chapters each question where how and why the disciplinary edifice of 20th century architecture its canon of built visual textual and conceptual works relied on Italian foundations examining where and how those foundations have become insecure Indispensable for students and scholars of both Italian and global architectural history Italian Imprints on Twentieth Century Architecture provides an opportunity to consider the architectural and urban landscape of Italy from substantially new points of view

Modern Architecture Alan Colquhoun, 2002 In this study of the international modern movement in architecture Alan Colquhoun explores the complex motivations behind its revolutionary new style and assesses its triumphs and failures

Modern Architecture and the Mediterranean Jean-Francois Lejeune, Michelangelo Sabatino, 2009-12-04 Considering the influence of the forms and tectonics of the Mediterranean vernacular on modern architectural practice and discourse from the 1920s to the 1960s

Suspending Modernity: The Architecture of Franco Albini Kay Bea Jones, 2016-04-01 Franco Albini's works of architecture and design produced between 1930 and 1977 have enjoyed a recent revival but to date have received only sporadic scholarly attention from historians and critics of the Modern Movement A chorus of Italian voices has sung his praises none more eloquently than his protégé Renzo Piano Kay Bea Jones illuminating study of selected works by Studio Albini will reintroduce his contributions to one of the most productive periods in Italian design Albini emerged from the ideology of Rationalism to produce some of Italy's most coherent and poetic examples of modern design He collaborated for over 25 years with Franca Helg and at a time when professional male female partnerships were virtually unknown His museums and installation motifs changed the way Italians displayed historic artifacts He composed novel suspension structures for dwellings shops galleries and his signature INA pavilions where levity and gravity became symbolic devices for connoting his subjects Albini clarified the vital role of tradition in modern architecture as he experimented with domestic space His cohort defied CIAM ideologies to re socialize postwar housing and speculate on ways of reviving Italian cities He explored new fabrication technologies from the scale of furniture to wide span steel structures yet he never abandoned the rigors of craft and detail in favor of mass production Suspending Modernity follows the evolution of Albini s most important buildings and projects even as they reveal his apprehensive attitudes about the modern condition Jones argues here that Albini s masterful use of materials and architectural expression mark an epic paradigm shift in the modern period
