New Individualism:

The New Individualism Anthony Elliott, Prof Charles Lemert, Charles Lemert, 2005-11-14 Corporate networking compulsive consumerism plastic surgery therapeutic tribulations instant identity makeovers and reality TV welcome to life in our increasingly individualized world In this dazzling book Anthony Elliott and Charles Lemert explore the culture of the new individualism generated by global capitalism and develop a major new perspective on people's emotional experiences of globalization The New Individualism offers fascinating but disturbing accounts of people struggling to cope with a new individualism reshaping the world today There is Larry a high tech executive emotionally wrecked by success there is Ruth a married woman in her late fifties typing real time erotica in cyberspace there is Norman a recovering drug addict infected with HIV reinventing himself by accepting the deadly worlds for what they are and Caoimhe and Annie two little girls only beginning to explore the disorientating effects of the new individualism This book powerfully cuts against the grain of current orthodoxies that view globalization as corrosive of private life Elliott and Lemert argue that today's worlds are not only risky but deadly Yet there is hope the authors contend beyond the complexities Voted into the 50 Best Management Books For 2006 by The Australian Financial Review

Deadly Worlds Charles C. Lemert, Anthony Elliott, 2006 Deadly Worlds offers an original analysis of one of the unsolved questions of the current age what are the emotional costs and possibilities of globalization Lemert and Elliott challenge the dominant interpretations of the late modern world by delving below the surface of cultural and economic theories to explore theories of the new individualism Against European ideas that the individual is either a manipulated artifact of mass culture or a reflexive self facing global risks they pose the possibility that the new worlds are actually deadly Against the American tradition of viewing the individual as having abandoned her moral center they suggest the necessity of rediscovered aggression as a proper moral quality Deadly Worlds is controversial but also plain spoken and intriguing It dares to rework the case method by telling the stories of real individuals Kelly struggling to find herself by plastic surgery Norman responding to a positive HIV status by remaking his community Larry desperately seeking to control the world's demands by therapy Phyllis using her natural gift for aggression to heal and build institutions The life stories root the book's themes in worlds all can recognize while the presentation of the prevailing theories of globalization and its effects expand the reader's social imagination to new possibilities

Impacts of Interdependencies Between Strategies on an Individual's Increase in Relative Status - An Exploratory Study

Marcel Mazur,2011-07-12 Master s Thesis from the year 2011 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade 1 0 ESCP Europe Business School Campus London Institut f r Marketing course Konsumentenverhalten language English abstract PURPOSE The various efforts of individuals to raise their status as recognised by others have previously been understood as measures independent from one another This thesis critically questions this rigid perspective and points out reasons that would lead one to conclude interdependencies between the individual measures The thesis points out that individuals use the interdependent measures in a strategic way depending on their economic e g income property and social e g education upbringing circumstances and combine them with one another according to certain criteria in order to raise their relative status advantage vis vis others FINDINGS The results of the study show that individuals use various combinations of strategies to raise their status depending on their economic and social circumstances The results were applied to the model of Pierre Bourdieu 1984 with a differentiation between economic and cultural capital The differentiation between directly existing and externally signalled economic and cultural capital at times showed significant differences. The individuals depending on the reference group their existing status norms as well as their demographic circumstances signalise the strategy used to a varying degree. The predominant norms in the various reference groups prompt individuals to signalise strategies to promote their status externally to a varying degree. Since status is a relative construct individuals can only raise their status through strategies that they also signalise externally. Based on these findings various clusters were defined that individuals depending on their directly existing capital in the sense of Bourdieu allocate to the specific situation.
