New Humans, New Earth: The Grand Celestial Plan for Personal and Planetary Transformation Christopher Jelm, Jeannine Marie Jelm, 2009-09-01 This guide presents simple demystified ideas about humanity's evolution into a new human species and Mother Earth's unfolding transformation into a higher vibrational planetary being. It will awaken the reader to new levels of understanding about these exciting and challenging times. New Human - New Earth: Living in the 5th Dimension Nicolya Christi, 2012-04-06 This book is offered as a guide for all those who are aligned or are aligning with the reality of New Earth and the New Human. It contains new information regarding the 5th Dimension and 5th Dimensional consciousness. On New Year's Eve 2011 Nicolya unexpectedly entered into a comatose state for two days during which time a massive download of information streamed into her consciousness. This download proved unlike any she had received in the past. Immediately following this Nicolya fell into a six-week creative void during which the direction her Work was taking was lost. Instead she found herself spinning in an infinite midnight void whilst at the same time continually being flooded with Light. She emerged from this state as suddenly as she had entered it with a vast outpouring of information which heralded a crystal clear reorientation for the path her Work was to take including the content for several books and the New Human New Earth Living in the 5th Dimension workshops and trainings. Public Theology: Exploring Expressions of the Christian Faith Bonnie Miriam Jacob, Editor, 2020-09-06 This book is an important step in clarifying the issues that come up when addressing the public square. It is an early effort towards a coherent theological frame for engagement in socio-political issues, this time rooted in the richness of a multi-faith context like that of India. While the church is the primary social context in which the saving power of God is made visible, this book equally insists that it is in the larger arena of what God is doing in the world that the kingdom's historic presence is felt. It is a fitting tribute to a man who has spent much of his life opening up the spaces where the Word is in vital conversation with the larger world. On the Verge of a Planetary Civilization Sam Mickey,2014-09-18 On the Verge of a Planetary Civilization presents a philosophical contribution to integral ecology an emerging approach to the field that crosses disciplinary boundaries of the humanities and sciences In this original book Sam Mickey argues for the transdisciplinary significance of philosophical concepts that facilitate understandings of and responses to the boundaries involved in ecological issues Mickey demonstrates how much the provocative French philosopher Gilles Deleuze contributes to the development of such concepts situating his work in dialogue with that of his colleagues Felix Guattari and Jacques Derrida and with theorists who are adapting his concepts in contemporary contexts such as Isabelle Stengers Catherine Keller and the speculative realist movement of object oriented ontology The book focuses on the overlapping existential social and environmental aspects of the ecological problems pervading our increasingly interconnected planet It explores the boundaries between self and other humans and nonhumans sciences and humanities monism and pluralism sacred and secular fact and fiction the beginning and end of the world and much more

Seeing Nature Through Gender Virginia Scharff,2003 Environmental history has traditionally told the story of Man and Nature Scholars have too frequently overlooked the ways in which their predominantly male subjects have themselves been shaped by gender. Seeing Nature through Gender here reintroduces gender as a meaningful category of analysis for environmental history, showing how women's actions, desires, and choices have shaped the world and seeing men as gendered actors as well. In thirteen essays that show how gendered ideas have shaped the ways in which people have represented, experienced, and consumed their world, Virginia Scharff and her coauthors explore interactions between gender and environment in history. Ranging from colonial borderlands to transnational boundaries, from mountaintop to marketplace, they focus on historical representations of humans and nature, on questions about consumption, on environmental politics, and on the complex reciprocal relations among human bodies and changing landscapes. They also challenge the ecofeminist position by challenging the notion that men and women are essentially different creatures with biologically different destinies. Each article shows how a person or group of people in history have understood nature in gendered terms and acted accordingly, often with dire consequences for other people and organisms. Here are considerations of the ways we study sexuality among birds of William Byrd's masking sexual encounters in his account of an eighteenth-century expedition, of how the ecology of fire in a changing built environment has reshaped firefighters' own gendered identities. Some are playful, as in a piece on the evolution of snow bunnies to shred bunnies. Others are dead serious, as in a chilling portrait of how endocrine disruptors are reinventing humans, animals, and water systems from the cellular level out. Aiding and adding significantly to the enterprise of environmental history, Seeing Nature through Gender bridges gender history and environmental history in unexpected ways to show us how the natural world can remake the gendered patterns we've engraved on ourselves and on the planet.     The Northwestern Miller ,1920     Christian Advocate ,1922
