Parents On The Team:

Beyond Winning Kim Payne, Luis Llosa, Scott Lancaster, 2013-08-20 These days it seems everyone has a youth sports horror story whether it's about a tyrant coach obsessed with his team record that only plays the best kids on the team or a parent who publicly berates his kid for not making a goal. But should it really only be all about winning? What about having fun, learning a sport and developing athletic skills? Beyond Winning with Whole Child Sports offers an alternative approach to teaching sports to kids. It deemphasizes short term goals like winning and youth championships and discourages the introduction of adult oriented league structured competition. Instead it emphasizes training techniques and coaching strategies aimed at improving core strength, balance and creativity in aspiring athletes using an age appropriate four stage timeline based on a child's physical, psychological and neurological development. Beyond Winning with Whole Child Sports provides frustrated parents with help in the form of advice and concrete solutions to common questions and step by step instructions for helping young children develop athletic ability in an environment that's less structured while encouraging athletic and personal growth. It also reveals how to avoid bullying, trash talk and elitism.

Parents on the Team Sara L. Brown, Martha S. Moersch, 1978 The Family Team Peter S. Pierro, 2014-01-09 We Parents and Coaches are Partners with our Kids. We are positively involved in the sports ventures of our kids and our players. However we must remember that the first and most important role in this venture is that of our kids. The Game is their business and only their business. They are the players, they are the people playing The Game. They are there because they want to be there; if they don't want to be there they should be someplace else doing something else. And above all we are all Members of the Team.

101 Ways to Be a Terrific Sports Parent Joel Fish, 2007-11-01 The determining factor in whether a child between the ages of six and seventeen enjoys athletics is his or her parents, not the sport coach or team. Yet parents are often unaware of how their behavior and expectations impact their child's experience. In 101 Ways to Be a Terrific Sports Parent Dr. Joel Fish, a sport psychologist who is also the dad of three young athletes, shares both his clinical expertise and practical experience to help parents develop a deeper understanding of the many issues that surround the young athlete. For athletes of all skill levels from Little League to high school, Dr. Fish discusses how to help your child reach his or her full athletic potential, develop strategies to deal with competitive pressure, know if you're too involved or not involved enough, interact successfully with your child's coach and more. With insights into the different developmental and self-esteem issues facing girls and boys, information on parenting a superstar athlete and special tips for single parents, 101 Ways to Be a Terrific Sports Parent will help any parent make sports a memorable and happy experience for their child.

School-Parent Collaborations in Indigenous Communities Iris Manor-Binyamini, 2013-10-31 Poverty, Lack of social support, Limited access to education, High risk for health problems. Indigenous communities face an inordinate number of hardships.
