Parentcraft A Comedy:

Parentcraft Stephen Smith,1996 Four expectant mothers and one father find themselves in a small hospital room awaiting the midwife who is to give them their first Parentcraft class Differences in experiences outlook and class lead to some interesting and at times hilarious exchanges as each of the five have to face and come to terms with the prejudices and foibles of their companions An amazing revelation shocks them all one of their number is not in fact going to be a parent at all 4 women 1 man The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2003

Directors in British and Irish Cinema Robert Murphy,2019-07-25 A guide to directors who have worked in the British and Irish film industries between 1895 and 2005 Each of its 980 entries on individuals directors gives a resume of the director s career evaluates their achievements and provides a complete filmography It is useful for those interested in film making in Britain and Ireland

Gender Identity and Discourse Analysis Lia Litosseliti,Jane Sunderland,2002-05-31 Gender and discourse interface in many more epistemological sites than can be represented in one collection Gender Identity and Discourse Analysis therefore focuses on a principled diversity of key sites within four broad areas the media sexuality education and parenthood The different chapters together illustrate how taking a discourse perspective facilitates understanding of the complex and subtle ways in which gender is represented constructed and contested through language The book engages critically with long running and on going debates but also reflects and develops current understandings of gender identity and discourse particularly the shift from gender differences to the discursal shaping of gender Gender Identity and Discourse Analysis thus offers not only insights and methodologies of new empirical studies but also careful theorisations in particular of discourse text identity and gender The collection is a valuable resource for researchers postgraduates and advanced undergraduates working in the area of gender and discourse

Connected Parenting Jai Mackenzie,2023-02-23 Changing practices and perceptions of parenthood and family life have long been the subject of intense public political and academic attention Recent years have seen growing interest in the role digital media and technologies can play in these shifts yet this topic has been under explored from a discourse analytical perspective In response this book s investigation of everyday parenting family practices and digital media offers a new and innovative exploration of the relationship between parenting family practices and digitally mediated connection This investigation is based on extensive digital and interview data from research with nine UK based single and or lesbian gay or bisexual parents who brought children into their lives in non traditional ways for example through donor conception surrogacy or adoption Through a novel approach that combines constructivist grounded theory with mediated discourse analysis this book examines connected family lives and practices in a way that transcends the limiting social biological and legal structures that still dominate concepts of family in contemporary society
