Parents Curriculum Guide:

Parents' Curriculum Guide John Gillespie, 1992-01-01 Early Education at Home M. Jean Soyke, 1992 Early Education at Home is a complete course of instruction for children ages 3-5 using simple inexpensive materials that can be found in the home. It includes all of the basic concepts such as letters, colors, numbers, and shapes as well as areas such as manners, health, and safety and character development. Although this curriculum is structured to fit a regular 36-week school year, it is flexible enough to be used in almost any home setting under almost any schedule. Even working parents can select specific activities for evening or weekend hours. Early Education at Home is an ideal way for parents or day care providers to stimulate the intellectual development of children in the comfort and security of their own homes. Walker, 1987 Homeschooling Samuel L. Blumenfeld, 1997

More and more parents today are disillusioned with public education. Instead of merely tolerating a faulty system, expanding numbers of parents are turning to alternative education for their children. Homeschooling describes what homeschooling is all about, helps parents decide whether or not this choice fits their family lifestyle, covers virtually every aspect of homeschooling, and more. Parenting Skills for Young Parents TRO Learning, Inc. Plato Education, 1990 A Parent's Guide to Early Childhood Education Diane Trister Dodge, Joanna Phinney, 1990. This handbook was originally intended for parents whose children attend programs which use The Creative Curriculum for Early Childhood (CCEC), but the information is also useful to parents whose children attend early childhood programs using other curriculum models based on child development theories. The purpose of the handbook is to explain ways parents and teachers can work together at home and at school to help children acquire the skills, attitudes, and habits to do well in school and throughout life. The guide explains the CCEC program's philosophy and goals. It describes what children are learning while engaged in particular CCEC program activities and what they learn from the environment: the daily schedule, conversations, and at home in the dining room, living room, kitchen, children's bedroom, bathroom, and outside. Concluding remarks stress that the key to providing successful learning experiences for young children is to figure out what interests the child and use those interests to engage him or her in actively exploring and learning about the environment. It is emphasized that every place is a learning environment for a child regardless of where the family lives or what kind of home the family lives in.
