Making Enquiries Into Alleged Child Abuse And Neglect Partnership With Families:

Making Enquiries Into Alleged Child Abuse and Neglect Dendy Platt, David Shemmings, 1997 Focusing on good working practice in all aspects of conducting enquiries into alleged child abuse this book takes a positive approach to improving relationships between the workers and the families involved Each chapter concentrates on a specific issue including topics such as gatekeeping planning an enquiry interviewing children medical examinations and recorded agreements Practice research and procedures are examined critically from a perspective which emphasises the importance of partnership with children and families This book is essential reading for social services practitioners and managers voluntary organisations and all concerned with the current debate about the role of enquiries into alleged child abuse and neglect This book forms part of a re examination of enquiries into alleged child abuse managed jointly by the National Institute for Social Work the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and Parents Against INjustice      Child Welfare Professionals and Incest Families Ingrid Thompson-Cooper, 2017-07-12 This title was first published in 2001 Little research has been done on the nature of decision making by child welfare professionals in child abuse cases or on the impact of the different approaches on victims and their families This text compares a system which relies heavily on criminal prosecution to handle child abuse cases England with a system that is more treatment orientated and depends primarily on child welfare and clinical services Canada The study examines the extent and nature of the incestuous abuse how it was disclosed and the initial reponse from the professionals It then looks at how the cases are processed through child welfare and criminal justice systems with attention paid to the decisions made throughout The nature of the social service contacts with the family are also examined as are the type and length of treatment It attempts to determine what factors influence the legal and clinical decisions that are made by various professionals throughout the whole process      Social Work with Children, Young People and their Families in Scotland Steve Hothersall, 2008-08-08 This updated edition enables students to develop a broader understanding of social work with children and families in Scotland It uses practical examples case studies and a critical appreciation of the legislation to reinforce learning In many ways Scotland has led the way in legal and policy direction for social care and this edition is fully updated to reflect recent key changes      Child and Family Assessment in Social Work Practice Sally Holland, 2004-03-06 This is an essential guide for both social work students and practitioners involved in the assessment of children and their families It is a guide for practice that is strongly rooted in research evidence      The Child's World Janet Anne Basarab-Horwath, 2001-01-01 Written for professionals involved in the assessment of children in need this book is a comprehensive guide to recent developments in research and practice It looks at the policy framework for assessment the actual process of assessment how to assess the developmental needs of children and how to assess their parents and family s capacity to meet those needs The contributors are experts from a range of fields and the guide which was developed by the NSPCC and is published in association with them is designed to facilitate productive joint agency work Key topics covered include ecological perspectives on the child and the family attachment theory and child development assessing families where the parents have a learning disability working with children and families from minority ethnic groups the effect of sexual abuse within the family on the assessment process assessment prior to birth Originally commissioned by the Department of Health and outlining the developments and theory underpinning their Framework for the Assessment of Children in Need and their Families this book will be essential reading for qualified and trainee social workers and those completing the Post Qualifying Award in Child Care It will also be an indispensable guide for psychologists teachers health visitors and any other professionals and qualifying professionals involved in the assessment of children in need

Child Protection and the Care Continuum Elizabeth Fernandez, Paul Delfabbro, 2020-11-25 This important new book critically examines the complex policy and practice issues surrounding child protection including the impact of theoretical orientations contemporary debates policy initiatives and research findings and maintains an emphasis on the ethics and values underpinning child welfare interventions The book introduces policies that are central to understanding the position and needs of children and young people and how policy and practice have been influenced by developments including the children's rights agenda It also explores the most significant issues in child welfare These include the experience of maltreatment by children the systems of child protection to safeguard them the methods and challenges of risk assessment and the wide range of policy and therapeutic interventions to respond to children's needs The book also examines family support to promote children's wellbeing before considering provision for children and young people who are looked after in out of home care There is also a final section that focuses on best practice in communicating and working with children and young people drawing on participatory rights oriented and resilience based approaches and supporting foster and adoptive carers and biological parents Contributing in a substantive and clear manner to a growing international conversation about the present function and future directions for child welfare in contemporary societies this textbook will be of interest to undergraduate and postgraduate social work students and those from allied disciplines and professionals who are engaged in child welfare services

Family Law, 1996 Out of Hearing Judith Masson, Maureen Winn Oakley, 1999-03-12 This volume explores the law and practice of representation particularly how the relationships between guardians solicitors courts and local authorities shape the representation provided for abused and neglected children

Law for Social Workers Hugh Brayne, Gerry Martin, 1997 Law for Social Workers provides students with exactly what they need in order to understand the legal framework in which social workers act It provides clear information on key issues in social work law such as the social worker's duties to society and the client law and the legal system with detailed help on the issues of discrimination human rights and immigration status plus the workings of the courts working with children including in the civil and criminal courts working with adults and legal issues relating to violence family breakdown and housing
