Hagiography, Historiography, and Identity in Sixth-Century Gaul Tamar Rotman, 2025-10-01 Gregory of Tours the sixth century Merovingian bishop composed extensive historiographical and hagiographical corpora during the twenty years of his episcopacy in Tours These works serve as important sources for the cultural social political and religious history of Merovingian Gaul This book focuses on Gregory s hagiographical collections especially the Glory of the Martyrs Glory of the Confessors and Life of the Fathers which contain accounts of saints and their miracles from across the Mediterranean world It analyses these accounts from literary and historical perspectives examining them through the lens of relations between the Merovingians and their Mediterranean counterparts and contextualizing them within the identity crisis that followed the disintegration of the Roman world This approach leads to groundbreaking conclusions about Gregory s hagiographies which this study argues were designed as an ecclesiastical history of the Merovingian Church that enabled him to craft a specific Gallo Christian identity for his audience

The Making of English National Identity Krishan Kumar, 2003-03-13 Why is English national identity so enigmatic and so elusive Why unlike the Scots Welsh Irish and most of continental Europe do the English find it so difficult to say who they are The Making of English National Identity first published in 2003 is a fascinating exploration of Englishness and what it means to be English Drawing on historical sociological and literary theory Krishan Kumar examines the rise of English nationalism and issues of race and ethnicity from earliest times to the present day He argues that the long history of the English as an imperial people has as with other imperial people like the Russians and the Austrians developed a sense of missionary nationalism which in the interests of unity and empire has necessitated the repression of ordinary expressions of nationalism Professor Kumar s lively and provocative approach challenges readers to reconsider their pre conceptions about national identity and who the English really are

Islam, Christianity and the Making of Czech Identity, 1453-1683 Laura Lisy-Wagner, 2016-05-06 Unlike many narratives about the Czech lands which place them on the periphery of their own history this study considers Czechs as central characters looking both east and west to find their place in the early modern world Islam Christianity and the Making of Czech Identity 1453 1683 works through the descriptive and ethnographic texts produced by Czech speakers about Islam and the Ottoman Empire to show how they used this discourse to create Czech identities Rather than simply constructing identity in opposition to the Islamic Other Laura Lisy Wagner shows how these authors played the Holy Roman and Ottoman Empires off each other creating an autonomous space for themselves in between Lisy Wagner introduces sources that are new to English language historiography and uses them in a way that is new to Czech historiography as well The chapters are organized based on different categories of agents travelers ethnographers religious leaders artists and political revolutionaries whose voices cast ideas of Europe and Czech identity in the early modern period in a new and different light
