Nature Historical Experience:

The Concept of Time and Historical Experience Mihai Popa, 2023-09-26 This book is focused on the question does the event from which we extract historical experience acquire this status at the moment it occurs or later as it is remembered through the generations Historical experience is not a concept that facilitates the ascent of the historian to the fact it is closely related to the fact This does not make it easier to handle because the fact itself is retractable it hides its social cultural essence and meaning in time The present of the historian narrator restores as in an incessant change of perspective the diachrony of the fact looking for the present of the past fact The experience suddenly becomes a relationship between two temporal actualities that seek their own cultural identity From this perspective history moves with us The weight of the conceptualization of a past reality is given by the comprehensive weight impossibility of the fact experience The work is about the philosophy of history It is addressed to students historians and researchers in the field of the theory of history

Nature and Historical Experience John Herman Randall (Jr.), 1962      Studies in the Nature and Teaching of History W H Burston, D Thompson, 2016-04-14 Originally published in 1967 this book is aimed at the student teacher and discusses the philosophy of history and the effective learning of it It discusses the UK secondary school history syllabus with a particular emphasis on whether contemporary history is of more relevance to pupils than traditional history There is a specific chapter on the problems of value judgements in history and history teaching From a psychological point of view the book examines the problems of concept formation the uses and dangers of analogy and the question of imagination and inference in child and adolescent thinking      Times of History, Times of Nature Anders Ekström, Staffan Bergwik, 2022-02-11 As climate change becomes an increasingly important part of public discourse the relationship between time in nature and history is changing Nature can no longer be considered a slow and immobile background to human history and the future can no longer be viewed as open and detached from the past Times of History Times of Nature engages with this historical shift in temporal sensibilities through a combination of detailed case studies and synthesizing efforts Focusing on the history of knowledge media theory and environmental humanities this volume explores the rich and nuanced notions of time and temporality that have emerged in response to climate change      Nature and History in American Political Development

James W CEASER, Jack N Rakove, Nancy L Rosenblum, Rogers M Smith, James W Ceaser, 2009-06-30 In this inaugural volume of the Alexis de Tocqueville Lectures James Ceaser traces the way certain foundational ideas including nature history and religion have been understood and used over the course of American history Ceaser treats these ideas as elements of political discourse that provide the ground for other political ideas such as liberty or equality Three critical commentators challenge Ceaser's arguments and a spirited debate about large and enduring questions in American politics ensues      Animal

naturalistic as it is deeply theological a critical perspective is advanced that is attuned to human embeddedness within nature as well as to human distinctiveness In support of this a moral anthropological method is deployed as a creative new way to integrate the comparative critical and constructive tasks of theological ethics The insights of Hans Jonas and James M Gustafson interpreted comparatively for the first time are critically drawn together to suggest new directions for scholarship and teaching in theology and religion and science studies      The New Larned History for Ready Reference, Reading
