Modern Romance Literatures Dorothy Nyren Curley, Arthur Curley, 1967 Modern Romance Literatures Dorothy Nyren Curley (comp), 1967 Teaching Games and Game Studies in the Literature Classroom Tison Pugh, Lynn Ramey, 2022-09-22

Teaching Games and Game Studies in the Literature Classroom offers practical suggestions for educators looking to incorporate ludic media ranging from novels to video games and from poems to board games into their curricula. Across the globe, video games and interactive media have already been granted their own departments at numerous larger institutions and will increasingly fall under the purview of language and literature departments at smaller schools. This volume considers fundamental ways in which literature can be construed as a game and the benefits of such an approach. The contributors outline pedagogical strategies for integrating the study of video games with the study of literature and consider the intersections of identity and ideology as they relate to literature and ludology. They also address the benefits and liabilities of making the process of learning itself a game, an approach that is quickly gaining currency and increasing interest. Every chapter is grounded in theory but focuses on practical applications to develop students' critical thinking skills and intercultural competence through both digital and analog gameful approaches. Thinking with the Familiar in

Contemporary Literature and Culture 'Out of the Ordinary', 2019-09-24

What grows out of the ordinary? This volume focuses on that which has been regarded as ordinary, self-evident and formulaic in literary and cultural phenomena such as diasporic cuisine, pet adoption narratives, Prairie writing, romance between stepsiblings, the program of a political party and everyday shopping in poetry. The book argues that by engaging with that which is perceived as ordinary, we also gain understanding of how otherness becomes defined and constituted. The volume seeks new ways to access that which might lie in between or beyond the opposition between exploitation and emancipation and contests the hegemonic logic of revealing oppression and rebuilding liberation in contemporary critical theory to create new ways of knowing which grow out of the ordinary. Catalog and Yearbook University of Northern Colorado, 1925 Rethinking Gaspara Stampa in the Canon of Renaissance Poetry Unn Falkeid, Aileen Feng, 2016-03-03

Despite the fact that Gaspara Stampa (1523-1554) has been recognized as one of the greatest and most creative poets and musicians of the Italian Renaissance, scholarship on her work has been surprisingly scarce and uncoordinated. In recent years, critical attention towards her work has increased, but until now there have been no anthologies dedicated solely to Stampa. Rethinking Gaspara Stampa in the Canon of Renaissance Poetry aims to set a foundation for further Stampa studies by accounting for her contributions to literature, music history, gender studies, the history of ideas, philosophy and other areas of critical thought. This volume brings together an international group of interdisciplinary scholars who employ varied methodologies to explore multiple aspects of Stampa's work in dialogue with the most recent scholarship in the field. The chapters emphasize the many ways in which Stampa's poetry engages with multiple cultural movements of early modern Italy and Europe, including Ficcinian and Renaissance

Neoplatonism male authored writing about women Longinus s theory of the sublime the formation of writing communities the rediscovery of Aristotle s writings and the reimagined relation between human and natural worlds Taken as a whole this volume presents a rich introduction to and interdisciplinary investigation of Gaspara Stampa s impact on Renaissance culture
