Linnan, 2016-04-22 This book addresses critical questions about how legal development works in practice Can law be employed to shape behavior as a form of social engineering or must social behavior change first relegating legal change to follow as ratification or reinforcement And what is legal development s source of legitimacy if not modernization But by the same token whose version of modernization will predominate absent a Western monopoly on change There are now legal development alternatives especially from Asia so we need a better way to ask the right questions of different approaches primarily in non Western Asia Africa the Islamic world plus South America Incoming waves of change like the Arab spring lie on the horizon Meanwhile debates are sharpening about law s role in economic development versus democracy and governance under the rubric of the rule of law More than a general survey of law and modernization theory and practice this work is a timely reference for practitioners of institutional reform and a thought provoking interdisciplinary collection of essays in an area of renewed practical and scholarly interest The contributors are a distinguished international group of scholars and practitioners of law development social sciences and religion with extensive experience in the developing world      Modernization of the Law in Arab States George N. The driving force of the dynamic development of world legal history in the past few centuries with the dominance of the West was clearly the demands of modernisation transforming existing reality into what is seen as modern The need for modernisation determining the development of modern law however clashed with the need to preserve cultural identity rooted in national traditions With selected examples of different legal institutions countries and periods the authors of the essays in the two volumes Modernisation National Identity and Legal Instrumentalism Studies in Comparative Legal History vol I Private Law and Modernisation National Identity and Legal Instrumentalism Studies in Comparative Legal History vol II Public Law seek to explain the nature of this problem Contributors are Judit Beke Martos Ji Br ovj k Marjorie Carvalho de Souza Micha Ga dek Imre K pessy Ivan Kosnica Simon Lavis Maja Maciejewska Sza as Tadeusz Maciejewski Thomas Mohr Bal zs P lv lgyi and Marek Star Modernization of Law and Its Codificational Trends in the Afro-Asiatic Legal Development

Csaba Varga,1976 Global Justice, Human Rights and the Modernization of International Law Riccardo Pisillo Mazzeschi,Pasquale De Sena,2018-07-27 This book is based on the observation that international law is undergoing a process of change and modernization driven by many factors among which the affirmation and consolidation of the role of the individual and of the theory of human rights stand out In the contemporary world international law has demonstrated an ability to evolve rapidly But it is still unclear whether its modernization process is also producing structural changes which affect the subjects the sources and even the very purpose of this law Is it truly possible to speak of a paradigmatic and ideological change in the international legal system one that also involves a transition from a state centred international order to a human centred one and from inter state justice to global justice The book addresses three fundamental aspects of the modernization process of international law the possible widening of the concept of international community and of the classic assumptions of statehood the possible diversification of the sources of general international law and the ability of international law to adapt to new challenges and to achieve the main goals for humanity set by the United Nations The overall objective of the book is to provide the tools for a deeper understanding of the transition phase of contemporary international law by examining the major problems that characterize this phase The book will also stimulate critical reflection on the future prospects of international law
