Passages in Modern Sculpture Rosalind E.

Krauss, 1981-02-26 Studies major works by important sculptors since Rodin in the light of different approaches to general sculptural issues to reveal the logical progressions from nineteenth century figurative works to the conceptual work of the present

The Meaning of Modern Sculpture Reginald Howard Wilenski, 1961 A Moment's Monument Sharon Hecker, 2017-06-13 Medardo Rosso 1858-1928 is one of the most original and influential figures in the history of modern art and this book is the first historically substantiated critical account of his life and work An innovative sculptor, photographer and draftsman Rosso was vital in paving the way for the transition from the academic forms of sculpture that persisted in the nineteenth century to the development of new and experimental forms in the twentieth His antimonumental antiheroic work reflected alienation in the modern experience yet also showed deep feeling for interactions between self and other Rosso's art was also transnational he refused allegiance to a single culture or artistic heritage and declared himself both a citizen of the world and a maker of art without national limits In this book Sharon Hecker develops a narrative that is an alternative to the dominant Franco centered perspective on the origin of modern sculpture in which Rodin plays the role of lone heroic innovator Offering an original way to comprehend Rosso A Moment's Monument negotiates the competing cultural imperatives of nationalism and internationalism that shaped the European art world at the fin de siècle

The book explores this transformation, highlighting how sculptors responded to societal shifts and technological advancements leading to the birth of entirely new forms of artistic expression. Notably, the rise of steel production and welding provided unprecedented possibilities and the decline of traditional patronage challenged established norms. The book examines the rejection of academic conventions, the embrace of new materials and the exploration of abstraction. Beginning with 19th century traditions, it progresses through the influence of early modern sculptors like Auguste Rodin and avant garde movements such as Cubism and Futurism. Ultimately, the book analyzes the rise of constructivism and non-representational forms, revealing how sculptors moved beyond mere imitation. This exploration provides a comprehensive overview of a pivotal period in art history, offering new insights into the forces that shaped modern sculpture. After Modern Sculpture Richard J. Williams, 2000. Stars are central to the cinema experience and this collection offers a variety of fresh and informed perspectives on this important but sometimes neglected area of film studies. This book takes as its focus film stars from the past and present, from Hollywood to its margins and beyond, and analyses them through a close consideration of their films and the variety of contexts in which they worked. The book spreads the net wide, looking at past stars from Rosalind Russell and Charlton Heston to present day stars including Sandra Bullock, Jackie Chan and Jim Carrey, as well as those figures who have earned themselves a certain film star cachet, such as Prince and the martial artist Cynthia Rothrock. The collection will be essential reading for students and lecturers of film studies, as well as to those with a general interest in the cinema. The Sculpture of this Century Michel Seuphor, 1959.

Materials and Processes of Contemporary Sculpture Mahmoud Farag, 2020-01-17. Creating a successful sculpture requires an imaginative concept and a sound design that utilize the potential and avoid the limitations of the material and the process used in making it. Prior to a few decades ago, most sculptors were restricted to carving stone and wood or casting plaster, ceramics and bronze for their creations. Contemporary sculptors, however, are no longer bound by the limitations of these traditional materials and processes and can now create works in sizes, forms and textures that could not have been achieved previously. Many modern sculptures are now made from materials ranging from steel and aluminum to plastics and composites, using processes ranging from welding and adhesive bonding to molding and 3D printing. To fully utilize the full potential of such new materials, the sculptor needs to understand their points of strength, their limitations and the most effective way of shaping them to achieve a given design Although this book is written by a materials engineer the subject matter is presented from the point of view of the sculptor with emphasis on the strengths and weaknesses of different materials their resistance to weather conditions natural color and possible surface textures possible methods of shaping and joining tools and equipment needed and safety measures to take Whenever possible case studies are used to illustrate the sequence of processes and the cost elements involved in shaping a given material to create an actual work of sculpture
