Health, Social Change & Communities Pranee Liamputtong, Heather Gardner, 2003 Governments while concentrating on policy development and the pursuit of strategic approaches have concurrently distanced themselves from the direct provision of services to become funders not providers Funding is provided to agencies whether from the public or private sector on the basis of the strength of their competitive tenders and the number of relevant organizations that they have included The effects that these and other changes in the political and economic sectors have had on Australian society at the beginning of the 21st century are the concern of the authors of Health Social Change and Communities Since communities are both the recipients and the participants in health and social policy the book is a sympathetic but critical analysis of some of those community groups and how they are faring in terms of health and social indicators All of the chapters focus on the four main areas An overview of current social cultural or epidemiological perspectives relevant to the community and their members health Problems or issues in Australian society as reflective of wider international concerns A discussion of relevant health policies and programs Measures that can be taken to improve the health of selected groups in the community Health Social Change and Communities is written for readers who either have an interest or who are engaged in working with members of communities With its presentation of diversity in communities the book provides insights to enlighten and influence thinking about health and social policy Women in Asia: Health and sexuality Louise P. Edwards, Mina Roces, 2009 Volume III Health and Sexuality brings together the best and most influential scholarship on contentious themes such as the increasing imbalance in sex ratios in the region as a result of female infanticide sex selective abortions and the kidnapping of wives Research gathered in this volume also covers reproductive health violence against women e g female genital mutilation dowry burnings and honour killings same sex attraction and diverse gender identity and medicine and health care including work on traditional medicine and mental health problems specific to women in the region such as the high suicide rates in China and South Asia The material collected in Volume IV Constructions of the Feminine focuses on women in the family e g gendered role expectations women in religion Western perceptions of Asian women e g stereotypes of passivity women in the arts and official discourses on the feminine such as the promotion by Asian governments of gender roles Women in Asia is fully indexed and each of the four volumes has a comprehensive introduction newly written by the editors which provides extended reading lists and places the material in its historical and intellectual context It is an essential work of reference and is destined to be valued by scholars and students as well as policy makers and community activists as a vital one stop research resource Omega ,2000 Excerpta Indonesica ,1996 Pakistan Journal of Women's Studies ,2006 Health, Social, Science, Action & Partnership ,2000 Realising Sexual and Reproductive Health Rights in Kenya Kenya National Commission on Human Rights,2012 Birth in the Pacific Vicki Lukere, Margaret Jolly, 2002 This collection explores birthing in the Pacific against the background of debates about tradition and modernity A wide ranging introduction and conclusion together with case studies from Papua New Guinea New Caledonia Vanuatu Fiji and Tonga show how simple contrasts between traditional and modern practices technocratic and organic models of childbirth indigenous and foreign approaches and notions of before and after can be potent but problematic The difficulties entailed confront public health programs concerned with practical issues of infant and maternal survival in developing countries as well as scholarly analyses of birthing in cross cultural contexts The introduction analyzes central concepts and themes questions of survival safety and well being the significance of postures practices and sites the role of midwives traditional birth attendants and nurses and the role of men in birthing and reproduction Contributors four anthropologists a historian and a community health worker offer insights into the ways mothers midwives and nurses relate the traditional and the modern and how ideas of tradition and modernity have shaped representations of Pacific childbirth The conclusion provides researchers with a guide to relevant literature from several disciplines As a whole the collection warns against either a celebration of emancipation through biomedicine or a recuperative romance about women s past powers in reproduction Bodily Practices and Medical Identities in Southern Thailand Claudia Merli, 2008 This study explores contemporary practices concerning women s and children s bodies with a special focus on postpartum practices the treatment of the afterbirth and its cosmological dimensions and male and female circumcision At the intersection between traditional midwifery and modern medicine Muslim women cross the boundaries between different cosmologies and medical systems At the borders to Malaysia the Muslim minority in Thailand upholds postpartum practices which have been abandoned by the Thai Buddhists in the region making of the body a contested site of powers and identities Traditional midwives are pressured to limit their practices to rituals and massage The increasing use of medical technologies in the form of Caesarean section and modern contraceptives are perceived as leading to changes in the local ethnophysiology of female bodies The fluidity once characterising pre and postpartum bodily states has turned into an infertile rigidity exemplified by metaphors of a hardened body In official discourse a sharp line is drawn between outdated tradition and medical modernity at the same time as ethnic religious borders between Malay Muslims and Thai Buddhists are erased with the disappearance of old practices and the emergence of new Muslim identities and rituals Prodigious events and pregnancy losses led in the past to the formation of spirit cults managed by female mediums and represented a means of communication between Muslim and Buddhist lifeworlds As these events vanish under medical scrutiny and intervention on the one hand and a modernist reading of Islam on the other hand local ethnophysiological conceptions are lost Individual and social bodies are put under the medical dressage of biopolitics and a discourse on the Muslim minority is created to serve aims of internal colonialism

Hmong Women and Reproduction Pranee Liamputtong, 2000-08-30 Despite the fact that there are many Hmong living in the West especially in the U S France and Australia their voices are generally not heard This is particularly true for Hmong women Health and welfare professionals complain that there is a lack of knowledge about Hmong women s lives history health needs and reproductive customs This book is an important resource for those who treat Hmong women

Social Science and Multiculturalism Carmencita T. Aguilar, 1997 Review of Indonesian and Malaysian Affairs, 2003 Cultural Concepts and Behavioral Influences on Women of South-East Asia Anjum Hashmi, Fayaz Mamluh Alazmi, Jamil Ahmed Somroo, 2016-09-08 Scientific Study from the year 2014 in the subject Ethnology Cultural Anthropology language English abstract This Anthropological study was conducted to understand the link between cultural social and biological factors with childbearing pattern health and status of women The study was conducted in two areas of Lahore a rural area and an urban slum Data was collected through observation and repeated in depth interviews in Urdu Punjabi Forty six women were interviewed for triangulation purpose four focus group discussions and eight mother in laws were interviewed The Journey of Becoming a Mother Among Women in Northern Thailand Pranee Liamputtong, 2007 The Journey of Becoming a Mother Among Women in Northern Thailand is the first book length study of childbearing and motherhood in Thailand Informed by both anthropology and women s studies Pranee Liamputtong draws sharp distinctions between the practices of the East and those of the West Covering virtually every aspect of childbirth and upbringing this book also examines how women try to adapt to changes social economical and political that affect their motherhood and reproduction This very personal and accessible book is an excellent intercultural study of women and health useful to undergraduate as well as graduate students of Women's Studies Public Health and Anthropology Sex, Power and Magic Linda Rae Bennett, 2000 Who's who in Australia, 2003 The Psychology of Women Margaret W. Matlin, 2004
