The Case of the Missing Cookies

It was a sunny afternoon at Mathland Elementary, and the school bells were rung. The students were lined up with backpacks, lunches, and pencils, but the star of the show was the Mathland Math Mystery! Students worked together to solve the mystery. One student, the popular star of the school, was missing! The students were worried, and they approached their teacher, Mr. Math, for help. He was given a list of possible culprits, and the students were asked to find the culprit. The students worked together to solve the mystery, and they found the culprit! The culprit was the popular student, who was missing because he had been taken by the Mathland Math Mystery! The students were relieved to know that the culprit was not the popular student, and they were happy to have solved the mystery.

Students must solve the math questions and eliminate each box image that contains a matching answer. The answer key is located on the page in the mystery solution.
