labyrinth using Ariadne's ball of red thread is one of the most intriguing, suggestive and persistent of all myths and the labyrinth the beautiful, confounding and terrifying building created for the half man half bull monster is one of the foundational symbols of human ingenuity and artistry. Charlotte Higgins, author of the Baillie Gifford shortlisted Under Another Sky, tracks the origins of the story of the labyrinth in the poems of Homer, Catullus, Virgil and Ovid and with them builds an ingenious edifice of her own. Along the way she traces the labyrinthine ideas of writers from Dante and Borges to George Eliot and Conan Doyle and of artists from Titian and Velázquez to Picasso and Eva Hesse. Her intricately constructed narrative asks what it is to be lost, what it is to find one's way and what it is to travel the confusing and circuitous path of a lived life. Red Thread is above all a winding and unpredictable route through the byways of the author's imagination, one that leads the reader on a strange and intriguing journey full of unexpected connections and surprising pleasures.

Mazes and Labyrinths W. H. Matthews, 2014-03. This is a new release of the original 1922 edition.

Mazes and Labyrinths W. H. Matthews, 2015-07-10. Excerpt from Mazes and Labyrinths: A General Account of Their History and Developments. Advantages out of all proportion to the importance of the immediate aim in view are apt to accrue whenever an honest endeavour is made to find an answer to one of those awkward questions which are constantly arising from the natural working of a child's mind. It was an endeavour of this kind which formed the nucleus of the inquiries resulting in the following little essay. It is true that the effort in this case has not led to complete success in so far as that word denotes the formulation of an exact answer to the original question which, being one of a number evoked by parental experiments in seaside sand-maze construction, was Father who made mazes first of all. On the other hand one hesitates to apply so harsh a term as failure when bearing in mind the many delightful excursions, rural as well as literary, which have been involved and the alluring vistas of possible future research that have been opened up from time to time in the course of such excursions. By no means the least of the adventitious benefits enjoyed by the explorer has been the acquisition of a keener sense of appreciation of the labours of the archaeologist, the anthropologist and other more special types of investigator, any one of whom would naturally be far better qualified to discuss the theme under consideration at any rate from the standpoint of his particular branch of learning than the present author can hope to be.
