Making Babies Anne Enright, 2012-03-26 A San Francisco Chronicle Lit Pick Much of the book is astonishingly funny the rest would break your heart Colm T ib n Anne Enright is one of the most acclaimed novelists of her generation The Gathering won the 2007 Man Booker Prize and her follow up novel The Forgotten Waltz garnered universal praise for her luminous language and deep insight into relationships Now in Making Babies Enright offers a new kind of memoir an unapologetic look at the very personal experience of becoming a mother With a refreshing no nonsense attitude Enright opens up about the birth and first two years of her children s lives Enright was married for eighteen years before she and her husband Martin a playwright decided to have children Already a confident successful writer Enright continued to work in her native Ireland after each of her two babies was born While each baby slept those first two years of life Enright wrote in dispatches about the mess the glory and the raw shock of motherhood Here unfiltered and irreverent are Enright's keen reactions to the pains of pregnancy the joys of breast milk and the all too common pressures to be the perfect parent Supremely observant and endlessly quizzical Enright is never saccharine always witty but also deeply loving Already a bestseller in the UK Making Babies brings Enright's autobiographical writing to American readers for the first time Tender and candid it captures beautifully just what it's like for a working woman to become a mother The result is a moving chronicle of parenthood from one of the most distinctive and gifted authors writing today MAKING BABIES, 1974 The Public Broadcasting Service PBS and the WGBH Educational Foundation provide an online supplement to the Frontline television program entitled Making Babies The program originally aired on June 1 1999 The supplement and program focused on new reproductive medicine the safety of experimentation the commercialization of reproduction and the changing nature of the family Interviews video excerpts a quiz and other materials are available online

Embryo Culture Beth Kohl, 2007-08-07 Injections Appointments Egg Retrieval Embryo Transfer Resources Energy x Time x Emotion That's the equation that was projected onto the screen when Beth Kohl and her husband first showed up at the in vitro fertilization IVF clinic Good evening the program's psychologist told the gathered infertile couples Before you begin your treatment you should know that this program is emotionally and psychologically stressful And how In this marvelously unconventional account of her struggles to bear children Kohl leads the reader on an oh so up close tour of fertilization in America and the ways in which science and miracle technology and faith converge to create life in the twenty first century Along the way Kohl wrestles with a new world of medical ethics Should she selectively reduce the number of embryos successfully implanted in the womb in order to prevent a potentially complicated pregnancy How much genetic testing of fertilized eggs is too much What is she supposed to do with the seven embryos left over from the IVF process When Andrew Solomon wrote The Noonday Demon he opened the world of depression to readers as no writer had done before And when Stephen L Carter wrote Reflections of an Affirmative Action Baby many readers were forced to completely rethink race and prejudice Kohl's spirited and rich exploration of embryo culture will completely revise how we see modern motherhood
