Making History in Banda Ann Brower Stahl, 2001-08-02 Drawing on evidence from several disciplines Ann Brower Stahl reconstructs the daily lives of Banda villagers of west central Ghana from the time that they were drawn into the Niger trade around AD 1300 until British overrule was established early in the twentieth century The case study aims to closely integrate perspectives drawn from archaeology history and anthropology in African studies American Artifacts of Personal Adornment, 1680-1820 Carolyn L. White, 2005-09-08 Bracelets buckles buttons and beads Clasps combs and chains Items of personal adornment fill museum collections and are regularly uncovered in historical period archaeological excavations But until the publication of this comprehensive volume there has been no basic guide to help curators registrars historians archaeologists or collectors identify this class of objects from colonial and early republican America Carolyn L White helps the reader understand and interpret these artifacts discussing their source manufacture materials function and value in early American life She uses them as a window on personal identity showing how gender age ethnicity and class were often displayed through the objects worn White draws not only on the items themselves but uses their portrayal in art contemporary writings advertisements and business records to assess their meaning to their owners A reference volume for the shelf of anyone interested in early American material culture Over 100 illustrations and tables African Historical Archaeologies Andrew M. Reid, Paul J. Lane, 2014-10-28 This volume explores the range of interactions between the historical sources and archaeology that are available on the African continent The contributions written by a range of experts on different aspects of African archaeology present the underlying issues such as The conflict and collaboration in the foundation of modern Africa African trading communities maintaining their independence from Europe The impacts of the Atlantic slave trade This represents the first consideration of historical archaeology over the African continent as a whole and therefore provides an important review for African archaeologists and historians This seminal volume also explores Africa's place in global systems of thought and economic development for historical archaeologists and historians alike West Africa During the Atlantic Slave Trade Christopher DeCorse, 2016-10-06 West Africa during the Atlantic Slave Trade surveys archaeological data from Senegal to the Cameroon It focuses on the past 500 years a period that witnessed dramatic transformations in African political and social systems as well as the consequences of European expansion the advent of the Atlantic slave trade and the expansion of Islamic polities in the West African Sahel The geographical and topical scope of this volume draws together archaeological syntheses of various parts of West Africa and is an important resource for West Africanists and all researchers interested in the indigenous response to European expansion as well as for those examining African continuities in the Americas People Making History Peter S. Garlake, Andre Proctor, 1985 Zimbabwean history is covered in two books from a socialist perspective Written in accessible language Book 1 describes pre colonial African history enlivened by many drawings photographs original sources and maps which are integrated into the text Book 2 applies a people centred approach and examines Africa from colonization to the present day in the context of international history The course follows a thematic approach balanced by a sense of chronology Making History Carolyn See,1991 Carolyn See s four previous novels have established her as one of the best chroniclers of California life Now she reaches out to encompass the whole Pacific Rim in a dazzling new novel about living on the edge of the future It is the story of one family who has achieved the L A dream of affluent happiness and of what happens when their sunny world is shattered by a series of random accidents Historical Archaeology ,2004 Creating Community in Spanish California Sarah M.
