The New Social Story Book Carol Gray, 2010     JEBPS Vol 13-N2 Journal of Evidence-Based Practices for Schools, 2013-02-12

The Journal of Evidence Based Practices for Schools is a leader in publishing research to practice articles for educators and school psychologists. The mission of this journal is to positively influence the daily practice of school based professionals through studies demonstrating successful research based practices in educational settings. As a result, the editors are committed to publishing articles with an eye toward improving student performance and outcomes by advancing psychological and educational practices in the schools. They seek articles using non technical language that 1 outline an evidence based practice 2 describe the literature supporting the effectiveness and theoretical underpinnings of the practice 3 describe the findings of a study in which the practice was implemented in an educational setting and 4 provide readers with information they need to implement the practice in their own schools in a section entitled Implementation Guidelines. The Journal of Evidence Based Practices for Schools differs from other scholarly journals in that it features articles that demonstrate empirically based procedures for readers to apply the practice in their setting.

Visual Support for Children with Autism Spectrum Disorders Vera Bernard-Opitz, Anne Häussler, 2011 Combining their years of experience working with individuals on the autism spectrum, the authors bring practical ideas and teaching methods for offering visual supports to students with autism spectrum disorders.

Comic Strip Conversations Carol Gray, 1994 Carol Gray combines stick figures with conversation symbols to illustrate what people say and think during conversations. Showing what people are thinking reinforces that others have independent thoughts, a concept that spectrum children don't intuitively understand. Children can also recognize that although people say one thing they may think something quite different, another concept foreign to concrete thinking children. Children can draw their own comic strips to show what they are thinking and feeling about events or people. Different colors can represent different states of mind. These deceptively simple comic strips can reveal as well as convey quite a lot of substantive information. The author delves into topics such as What is a Comic Strip Conversation, The Comic Strip Symbols Dictionary, Drawing small talk, Drawing about a given situation, Drawing about an upcoming situation, Feelings and COLOR.

Using Storytelling to Support Children and Adults with Special Needs Nicola Grove, 2013 This wide ranging book shows teachers and other educational professionals how to engage in highly creative approaches to the use of story which can be centred around myths and legends, personal stories, life stories or stories created by children themselves and highlights how storytelling can open new worlds for children with or without special educational needs.
