New Policies For Older Workers:

New Policies for Older Workers Taylor, Philip, 2002-12-18 Against a background of population ageing policy makers in the majority of industrialised countries are developing policies aimed at extending working life and promoting the benefits of employing older workers This report reviews developments in several countries and offers recommendations for public policy Based on a review of recent literature and interviews with experts in Australia Finland Germany Japan The Netherlands and the USA this report will be invaluable reading for policy makers practitioners and campaigners Transitions after 50 series People are living longer yet increasingly are leaving working life well before the state retirement age The Joseph Rowntree Fountain programme Transitions after 50 explores people's experiences decisions and constraints as they pass from active labour market participation in their middle years towards a new identity in later life Reports in this series look in particular at issues about work income and activities beyond work during this period of transition For other titles in this series please follow the series link from the main catalogue page New Opportunities for Older Workers, 2000-08 What role should older workers play in our future work force when the retirement of the baby boomers starting about 2010 will make tight labor markets commonplace This unprecedented demographic shift calls for a fundamental rethinking about the work force of the future Employer attitudes and policies must change if older workers are to remain in the work force longer This report recommends a pro work agenda for employers policymakers and elders in 6 areas getting the financial incentives right replacing stereotypes about older workers the training imperative rethinking the org of work getting older workers into new jobs and a strong and flexible safety net Toward a National Older Worker Policy, 1981 Abolishing Mandatory Retirement, 1981 Middle-aged and Older Workers ... California. Department of Industrial Relations, 1930 Fair Employment Practices, 1985 An International Overview of Employment Policies and Practices Towards Older Workers Joanne Moore, Barbara Tilson, Gill Whitting, 1994 Presents policies and practices concerning retirement in 22 OECD countries excluding Iceland and Turkey General Management Series, 1928 Workplace Policy for the New Economy, 2000 The Labour Gazette Canada. Department of Labour, 1930 A Guide to State-Level Policies, Practices, and Procedures Fernando L. Alegria (Jr.), 1992-01-01 This guide is intended for use by state officials as a guide to state policies practices and procedures that enhance employment opportunities for older workers An executive summary highlights the problems labor shortages and the strain on the retirement system and a remedy staying on the job longer Examples of policies practices and procedures that states may want to consider are described Recommendations are that all states should have a state level planning mechanism to address employment and training needs of older individuals older workers should be represented in policymaking bodies and older worker organizations should increase their advocacy role The body of the guide analyzes and synthesizes results of a national survey sent to state Job Training Partnership Act JTPA liaisons directors of state units on aging and selected directors of local JTPA service delivery areas 53 responses from 36 states are included The guide is divided into four sections The first contains a variety of relevant state level policies and practices The second section covers JTPA policies and practices The third section is devoted to Employment Service Wagner Peyser policies and practices The final section covers the Title V Senior Community Service Employment Program authorized under the Older Americans Act The appendix contains 11 references and proclamations on older workers by the Governors of New Mexico and New York

YLB Promoting Lifelong Learning for Older Workers Tarja Tikkanen,2006 This publication contains a number of essays which explore issues relating to population ageing and the needs of older workers from a lifelong learning perspective Although the focus is on European experiences it also includes contributions from Australia Japan and the United States The central argument of this book is that ageing must be seen as a lifelong learning and development process in which one continuously takes on new life challenges and in the context of work lifelong learning is understood as a broad holistic concept which encompasses individual education and training as well as participative workplace learning actively supported by employers
