Major A Biography Of Dick Hern:

The Major Michael Tanner, 1991-01-01 Reading Between the Lines: The Biography of 'Cockney' Cliff Lines David Bellingham, 2022-10-31 This is the story of Cockney Cliff Lines and his memories of 70 years spent in horseracing. Knowing nothing about racing or even how to ride, Cliff started as a 14-year-old apprentice to Noel Murless and the book details his life from riding a winner for the Queen, trying to make it as a jockey through being a work rider, head lad to Michael Stoute, pre-training and eventually training himself. It covers the trials and tribulations he endured, apprentice accommodation, bullying, doping scandals, the stable lads strike and his own health issues including a brain tumour. The stories of famous horses he worked with such as JO TOBIN, SHERGAR and SONIC LADY and those he nurtured in their early years including PILSUDSKI and FUJIYAMA CREST, the last runner in Frankie Dettori's Magnificent Seven, are all covered, as are his travels with horses around the world by boat and plane from 1954 to the present day. And despite all the ups and downs, Cliff genuinely has no regrets about his lifetime in the Thoroughbred racing industry.

The Demon Michael Tanner, 2017-05-11 The finest jockey rider on the English turf during the nineteenth century was George Fordham, lauded throughout the sport as the Demon. Such was the judgment of his contemporaries, from jockeys and trainers to owners and chroniclers. Yet history has not been kind to Fordham. Fate saw his career overshadowed by that of bitter rival Fred Archer, a jockey deemed his inferior but whose suicide invoked immortality. The question remains if Archer is fit to be mentioned in the same breath as twentieth-century icons Gordon Richards and Lester Piggott. Just how good a jockey does that make the unsung George Fordham? Acclaimed turf historian Michael Tanner shines a light on the life of this remarkable jockey and places him at long last atop the pedestal he deserves.

From Pow Camp to Oxford University Michael Tanner, 2018-07-24 This is the story of how a boy from a disadvantaged background on the outskirts of Oxford overcame all obstacles through an alliance of self-belief and inspirational grammar school teachers to fight his way into Oxford University.

Sport as History Tony Collins, 2013-09-13 Published to mark the career of one of sports history's pioneers, this book traces the evolution of sport across three continents. It brings together some of sports history's leading scholars to investigate not only the history of sport but also how that history is written. This Festschrift marks the retirement of Professor Wray Vamplew, an internationally renowned leader in the field of sports history. His 1976 book The Turf was one of the very first academic histories of sport and he has been a prolific writer, scholar and teacher for almost forty years. No one has played such an important role in the field of sports history across North America, Europe and Australia. President of the Australian Society of Sports History (ASSH), the British Society of Sports History (BSSH), the European Committee for the History of Sport (CESH) and the International Society for the History of Physical Education and Sport (ISHPES), Vamplew is currently editor of the North American Society for Sports History's NASSH journal, the Journal of Sport History. This collection reflects his interests and his appeal across the three continents; the essays deal with sport in America, Australia, Britain and Ireland and focus on the themes of national and regional identity gender trade unionism in sport and historiographical debates It is essential reading for anyone who wants to understand the history of sport and how it is studied today This book was published as a special issue of Sport in History
