New Perspectives On Disaffection:

New Perspectives on Disaffection Leo Hendry, 1997-11-01 Traditionally home circumstances or school regimes have been blamed for the worst excesses of pupil disaffection The authors argue that this simplistic response to a complex problem needs to be re examined The book reports the findings of a research programme based in Aberdeen which explored the factors leading to pupil disaffection The views and experiences of pupils themselves are central to the study From this the authors make practical recommendations for policy makers at all levels

An Introduction to Education Studies Sue Warren, 2009-03-08 An Introduction to Education Studies presents a concise overview for students who are new to this area of academic study Part 1 introduces the reader to the main themes they will encounter in their study of education such as the sociology of education the philosophy of education comparative education and ethics for educators Part 2 explores the contexts within which education takes place in order to stimulate further thinking about education in action Issues such as disaffection pupil voice and breaking barriers to learning are introduced to give the reader a feel for such issues and how they might approach them Through discussions of relevant literature and research and the use of case studies and exploratory activities students are encouraged to actively engage with their learning about theories and disciplines within the study of education and the contexts in which learners live and work Each chapter is written in an accessible style and provides the reader with start points for further study This book serves as a true course companion to meet the needs of students and lecturers working on Education Studies programmes Prospective teachers may also find the book of interest as the subject matter is discussed in terms of theory and practical applications in a range of educational contexts

Disaffected Parties John Owen Havard, 2019-02-14 Disaffected Parties reveals how alienation from politics effected crucial changes to the shape and status of literary form Recovering the earliest expressions of grumbling irritability and cynicism towards politics this study asks how unsettled partisan legacies converged with more recent discontents to forge a seminal period in the making of English literature and thereby poses wide ranging questions about the lines between politics and aesthetics Reading works including Laurence Sterne s Tristram Shandy James Boswell s Life of Johnson the novels of Maria Edgeworth and Jane Austen and the satirical poetry of Lord Byron in tandem with print culture and partisan activity this book shows how these writings remained animated by disaffected impulses and recalcitrant energies at odds with available party positions and emerging governmental norms even as they sought to imagine perspectives that looked beyond the divided political world altogether No one can be more sick of or indifferent to politics than I am Lord Byron wrote in 1820 Between the later eighteenth century and the Romantic age disaffected political attitudes acquired increasingly familiar shapes Yet this was also a period of ferment in which unrest associated with the global age of revolutions including a dynamic transatlantic opposition movement collided with often inchoate assemblages of parties and constituencies As writers adopted increasingly emphatic removes from the political arena and cultivated familiar stances of cynicism detachment and retreat their estrangement also promised to loop back into political engagement and to make their works parties all their own

James Joyce, New Perspectives Colin MacCabe,1982 Pupil Disaffection in Schools Sarah Swann,2016-04-15 Sarah Swann provides a fresh approach to examining the long standing debates over disaffection and in particular social class differences in educational achievement through a mixed methods methodology and the showcasing of new research By observing pupils as they engage with peers and teachers in school Swann allows disaffection to be seen and heard in real events which constructs disaffection differently from objective statistical evidence on school exclusions Rather than a homogenous identity this book illustrates disaffection as layered and resting on a series of issues located on the crossroads between the cultural context of the neighbourhood and the public sphere of the school It plots in a detailed way how these structures interact and mesh to create disaffected identities Disaffection does not emerge in a vacuum or without a cause Pupils arrive at school with a wide variety of experiences and it is from these that they interpret understand and act out their identities Whilst the study in part seeks to describe and understand the social world of the school in terms of the pupils interpretations of the situation it analytically frames the perceptions of pupils within a wider social context In particular it focuses on the relationships between schooling and the wider macro structures and social relations that underpin disaffection This approach makes the research both critical and interpretative and also able to shed new light on educational policy across England based on an understanding of the role of disaffection New Perspectives on Melville Faith Pullin,1978

Effective Schooling for Pupils with Emotional and Behavioural Difficulties Ted Cole,John Visser,Graham Upton,1998 First Published in 1998 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Theory & Practice in Clinical Social Work Jerrold R. Brandell,2010-02-16 Today s clinical social workers face a spectrum of social issues and problems of a scope and severity hardly imagined just a few years ago and an ever widening domain of responsibility to overcome them Theory and Practice in Clinical Social Work is the authoritative handbook for social work clinicians and graduate social work students that keeps pace with rapid social changes and presents carefully devised methods models and techniques for responding to the needs of an increasingly diverse clientele Following an overview of the principal frameworks for clinical practice including systems theory behavioral and cognitive theories psychoanalytic theory and neurobiological theory the book goes on to present the major social crises problems and new populations the social work clinician confronts each day Theory and Practice in Clinical Social Work includes 29 original chapters many with carefully crafted and detailed clinical illustrations by leading social work scholars and master clinicians who represent the widest variety of clinical orientations and specializations Collectively these leading authors have treated nearly every conceivable clinical population in virtually every practice context using a full array of treatment approaches and modalities Included in this volume are chapters on practice with adults and children clinical social work with adolescents family therapy and children s treatment groups other chapters focus on social work with communities affected by disasters and terrorism clinical case management cross cultural clinical practice psychopharmacology practice with older adults and mourning and loss The extraordinary breadth of coverage will make this book an essential source of information for students in advanced practice courses and practicing social workers alike

The Civil War and Slavery Reconsidered Laura R. Sandy, Marie S. Molloy, 2019-02-05 Following the suggestion of the historian Peter Parish these essays probe the edges of slavery and the sectional conflict The authors seek to recover forgotten stories exceptional cases and contested identities to reveal the forces that shaped America in the era of the Long Civil War c 1830 1877 Offering an unparalleled scope from the internal politics of southern households to trans Atlantic propaganda battles these essays address the fluidity and negotiability of racial and gendered identities of criminal and transgressive behaviors of contingent shifting loyalties and of the hopes of freedom that found expression in refugee camps court rooms and literary works
