New Voices in American Studies Ray B. Browne, 1968

Fifteen essays presented at the 1965 Midwest Conference on Literature History Popular Culture and Folklore showing the interrelation of the different disciplines in those subjects

New Voices in American Studies. Edited by Ray B. Browne, Donald M. Winkelman and Allen Hayman Mid-America Conference on Literature, History, Popular Culture and Folklore, Purdue University, 1965, Allen Hayman (Ed), Donald M. Winkelman (Ed), Ray Broadus Browne, Purdue University, 1966

The Challenge of American History Louis P. Masur, 1999-05-20 In The Challenge of American History Louis Masur brings together a sampling of recent scholarship to determine the key issues preoccupying historians of American history and to contemplate the discipline's direction for the future. The fifteen summary essays included in this volume allow professional historians, history teachers, and students to grasp in a convenient and accessible form what historians have been writing about.

Across the Continent Jeffrey L. Hantman, Douglas Seefeldt, Peter S. Onuf, 2006 Arriving as the country commemorates the expedition's bicentennial, Across the Continent is an examination of the explorers' world and the complicated ways in which it relates to our own. The essays collected here look at the global geopolitics that provided the context for the expedition. Finally, the discussion considers the various legacies of the expedition in particular its impact on Native Americans and the current struggle over who will control the narrative of the expansion of the American Empire from publisher description.

Native American Political Systems and the Evolution of Democracy Bruce E. Johansen, 1996-05-14 For more than a decade scholars have debated the question of whether American Indian confederacies primarily the Iroquois helped influence the formation of U.S. basic law. The idea has sparked lively debate in the public arena as well with Canadian diplomat Durling Joyce Jones contending it shows a paradigm shift in our thinking, Patrick Buchanan calling it idiocy, and George Will saying it's fiction. For the first time this bibliography brings together some 450 citations on the debate. The work describes the debate in the words of one of its major participants, Bruce E. Johansen, author of three other books on the subject. The bibliography also takes the reader back to suggestions of the idea long before the contemporary debate. Lakota author Charles Eastman brought up the subject in 1919. Mohawk teacher Ray Fadden developed it in the 1940s and John F. Kennedy touched on it in 1960. Bringing the debate to its full flower in the present day, the bibliography illustrates both fervent support and equally emphatic denial in the academy and the public press. The book is both a scholarly tool and a lively exploration of issues bearing on the study of history and multiculturalism.
