The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture Carol

Crown, Cheryl Rivers, Charles Reagan Wilson, 2013-06-03 Folk art is one of the American South's most significant areas of creative achievement and this comprehensive yet accessible reference details that achievement from the sixteenth century through the present. This volume of The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture explores the many forms of aesthetic expression that have characterized southern folk art, including the work of self-taught artists as well as the South's complex relationship to national patterns of folk art collecting. Fifty-two thematic essays examine subjects ranging from colonial portraiture, Moravian material culture, and southern folk pottery to the South's rich quilt-making traditions, memory painting, and African American vernacular art. 211 topical essays include profiles of major folk and self-taught artists in the region.

Maps and Cities Gloria Lanci, 2022-11-25 This book presents an original study on how contemporary artists are exploring urban spaces through mapping. Despite a long history of representations of cities in maps and the relationships that can be envisaged between art, maps, and cities in the contemporary world, little research is dedicated to investigating how artists intervene in the realm of urban cartography. The research examines a century-old history of art maps and draws on academic debates challenging traditional notions of maps as scientific artefacts produced through accurate measurement and surveying. The potential of art maps to construct personal narratives through contestation, embodiment, and play is analysed in the city context where spaces are shaped by urban planning and design, political ideologies, and socio-economic forces. Adopting an exploratory and interpretative research approach that investigates the confluence of theories originated in different domains, this book conducts the reader to discover what artistic practices can bring into a more creative while inquisitive understanding of cities. A series of semi-structured interviews with visual artists enquiring how they apprehend process and re-create urban spaces in artworks explores cartographic process and methods in visual art practices in the twenty-first century, which incorporates digital technologies and critical thinking. Works of Art Library of Congress.
