Glenn, 2021-11-05. This volume explores our cultural celebration of food, blending lobster festivals, politicians, roadside eats, reality show chef showdowns, and gravity-defying cakes into a deeper exploration of why people find so much joy in eating. In 1961, Julia Child introduced the American public to an entirely new joy-infused approach to cooking and eating food. In doing so, she set in motion a food renaissance that is still in full bloom today. Over the last six decades, food has become an increasingly more diverse, prominent, and joyful point of cultural interest. The Joy of Eating discusses in detail the current golden age of food in contemporary American popular culture. Entries explore the proliferation of food-themed television shows, documentaries, and networks; the booming popularity of celebrity chefs, unusual, exotic, decadent, creative, and even mundane food trends and cultural celebrations of food, such as in festivals and music. The volume provides depth and academic gravity by tying each entry into broader themes and larger contexts in relation to a food-themed reality show, for example, discussing the show's popularity in direct relation to a significant economic event, providing a brief history behind popular foods and types of cuisines, and tracing the evolution of our understanding of diet and nutrition among other explications.

An entertainment and tech insider, YouTube's chief business officer, delivers the first detailed account of the rise of YouTube, the creative minds who have capitalized on it to become pop culture stars, and how streaming video is revolutionizing the media world. In the past ten years, the internet video platform YouTube has changed media and entertainment as profoundly as the invention of film, radio, and television did more than six decades earlier. Streampunks is a firsthand account of this upstart company examining how it evolved and where it will take us next. Sharing behind the scenes stories of YouTube's most influential stars, Streampunks like Tyler Oakley, Lilly Singh and Casey Neistat and the dealmakers brokering the future of entertainment like Scooter Braun and Shane Smith. Robert Kyncl uses his experiences at three of the most innovative media companies—HBO, Netflix and YouTube—to tell the story of streaming video and this modern pop culture juggernaut. Collaborating with Google speechwriter Maany Peyvan, Kyncl explains how the new rules of entertainment are being written and how and why the media landscape is radically changing while giving aspiring Streampunks some necessary advice to launch their own new media careers.
