Modeling From Reality:

Modeling Reality Iwo Bialynicki-Birula, Iwona Bialynicka-Birula, 2004-10-21 This text covers a wide range of subjects accessible to anyone who wants to learn about the use of computer modeling to solve a diverse range of problems but who doesn't possess a specialized training in mathematics or computer science      Modeling from Reality Katsushi Ikeuchi, Yoichi Sato, 2002 This book summarizes the results of the editors modeling from reality MFR project which took place over the last decade The goal of this project was to develop techniques for modeling real objects and or environments into geometric and photometric models through computer vision techniques By developing such techniques time consuming modeling process currently undertaken by human programmers can be semi automatically performed and as a result one can drastically shorten the developing time of such virtual reality systems reduce their developing cost and widen their application areas The project was conducted while the authors were at the Computer Science Department of Carnegie Mellon University CMU and the Institute of Industrial Science at the University of Tokyo Modeling from Reality is suitable for a secondary text in a graduate level course and as a reference for researchers and practitioners in industry      Automatic Three-dimensional Modeling from Reality Daniel F. Huber, 2002      Modeling from Reality Heung-Yeung Shum, 1996 Abstract Traditional virtual reality systems rely on manual construction of the virtual environment which is labor intensive and usually not very realistic This thesis describes a modeling from reality system which observes from multiple viewpoints analyzes the geometrical shape of a scene or an object and subsequently integrates the multiple views to build a complete scene or object model from the existing environment Our system produces statistically optimal object models by adopting a new approach to modeling from reality an integral approach to object modeling The integral approach consists of two parts how to integrate and what to integrate Using a polyhedral object as an example this thesis show how to integrate multiple views in a statistically optimal fashion It is illustrated that multiple view integration can be formulated as a problem of principal component analysis with missing data PCAMD In spite of the noisy input and missing data at each view the PCAMD algorithm makes use of input redundancy among different views and guarantees that the recovered object model is statistically optimal It is shown that the problem of PCAMD can be generalized as a weighted least squares problem which is solved using an efficient bilinear iterative algorithm Matching multiple views of a polyhedral object can be accomplished by tracking its planar surface patches It is however difficult to match multiple views of a free form i.e smooth object This thesis shows what to be integrated from multiple views of a free form object by employing a novel global resampling technique A semi regularly tessellated spherical mesh is used to uniformly resample the free form object This mesh representation provides a one to one mapping between a resampled convex concave mesh to its curvature distribution on a unit sphere The correspondence between two meshes can then be established by minimizing the difference between two curvature distributions The same mesh representation also enables one to compare 3D shapes and to synthesize new shapes In summary this thesis shows that PCAMD can be used to integrate multiple views to obtain a statistically optimal object model provided that those views can be resampled and matched under appropriate representations Based on the integral approach our modeling from reality system has been successfully applied for modeling both polyhedral and free form objects     Modeling Reality Iwo Białynicki-Birula,2004     Information Modelling and Knowledge Bases XIII Hannu Kangassalo,2002 A collection of papers presented in the 11th European Japanese Conference on Information Modelling and Knowledge Bases held in Maribor Slovenia This annually organized conference brings together the leading researchers from Europe and Japan to introduce the latest results of their research     The Monist Paul Carus,1902 Vols 2 and 5 include appendices     Reality ,1928     Five Lectures on the City of Ancient Rome, and Her Empire Over the Nations, the Divinely-sent Pioneer of the Way for the Catholic Church ... Henry Formby,1875     Myth and Reality ,1959     The Philosophical Review Jacob Gould Schurman,James Edwin Creighton, Frank Thilly, Gustavus Watts Cunningham,1914 An international journal of general philosophy     The New Testament of Higher Buddhism Timothy Richard,1910 General introduction Introduction to the Awakening of faith Translation of the Awakening of faith Translator s introduction to the Lotus scripture Translation of the essence of the Lotus scripture Translation of the Great physician s twelve desires The creed of half Asia     Jurassic Fossils from Jubaland, East Africa Joh Weir,1929     Engineering and Contracting Halbert Powers Gillette,1925     Science Progress in the Twentieth Century ,1922     The Reality Record and Builder ,1903     The Journal of Philosophy ,1928 Covers topics in philosophy psychology and scientific methods Vols 31 include A Bibliography of philosophy 1933     Young People, Soap Operas and Reality Tv Cecilia von Feilitzen,2004     The theory of morals, tr. by M.
