Surviving Globalization? Stefan Beck, Frank Klobes, Christoph Scherrer, 2005-04-04 society and state Streeck 1999 Simonis 1998 Interspersed between these most commonly named elements are the following First the high political integrating force of the German Model after WWII was based on the adoption and transformation of corporatist political structures from National Socialist Germany Liberal capitalism was re introduced under political competition between Christian Democrats and Social Democrats who eventually found common ground in the politically mediated compromise between capital and labor This compromise was negotiated and institutionalized at a time when the communist wing of the workers movement and the authoritarian voices of German capital for various reasons were excluded from political participation Streeck 1999 p 15 translation SB The partnership between firms and unions manifested itself in manifold institutional structures Apart from the social partners autonomy in matters of wage policy worker codetermination at plant level and in operations is regarded as one of the special achievements of the German Model and has contributed substantially to social peace The political coordination forms of concerted action round tables as well as modernization and crisis cartels gave birth to a highly complex political decision making structure which based on a federalist setup has rightly been called negotiation state Esser 1998 p 123 Second the material foundation of this Social Democratic class compromise Buci Glucksmann Therborn 1981 consisted in the Federal Republic s in the words of G ste Esping Andersen conservative liberal form of welfare state Germany at Fifty-five James Sperling, 2004 Examining how the past has influenced current domestic and foreign policy in Germany this book explores topics such as the unification of east and west the founding of the Berlin and Bonn republics the legacies of national socialism and how the unified Germany s political culture continues to evolve Deutschland, Whose Model? Cafruny, Magnus Ryner, 2003 Arguing convincingly that mainstream theory lacks the tools to adequately explain European integration this challenging book draws upon critical political economic theory to develop a more comprehensive and consistent analysis of the processes of integration Although not claiming that states have ceded their role as masters of the treaties the contributors develop innovative case studies of national and transnational processes to illustrate the salience of trans European business networks and the primacy of neoliberalism as central organizing concepts of the post Maastricht European project      Globalisation contested Louise Amoore, 2013-07-19 This exciting book provides an illuminating account of contemporary globalisation that is grounded in actual transformations in the areas of production and the workplace It reveals the social and political contests that give global its meaning by examining the contested nature of globalisation as it is expressed in the restructuring of work Rejecting conventional explanations of globalisation as a process that automatically leads to transformations in working lives or as a project that is strategically designed to bring about lean and flexible forms of production this book advances an understanding of the social practices that constitute global change Through case studies that span from the labour flexibility debates in Britain and Germany to the strategies and tactics of corporations and workers the author examines how globalisation is interpreted and experienced in everyday life Contestation she argues is about more than just direct protests and resistances It has become a central feature of the practices that enable or confound global restructuring This book offers students and scholars of international political economy sociology and industrial relations an innovative framework for the analysis of globalisation and the restructuring of work An electronic edition of this book is freely available under a Creative Commons CC BY NC ND licence      Ein Auslaufendes Modell? Carl F.
