Today the Museum of Modern Art is widely recognized for establishing the canon of modern art yet in its early years the museum considered modern art part of a still unfolding experiment in contemporary visual production By bracketing MoMA's early history from its later reputation this book explores the ways the Museum acted as a laboratory to set an ambitious agenda for the exhibition of a multidisciplinary idea of modern art Between its founding in 1929 and its 20th anniversary in 1949 MoMA created the first museum departments of architecture and design film and photography in the country marshaled modern art as a political tool and brought consumer culture into a versatile yet institutional context Encompassing 14 essays that investigate the diversity of modern art this volume demonstrates how MoMA's programming shaped a version of modern art that was not elitist but fundamentally intertwined with all levels of cultural production A Social History of Modern Art, Volume 2 Albert Boime, 1991-05-07 In this second volume Albert Boime continues his work on the social history of Western art in the Modern epoch This volume offers a major critique and revisionist interpretation of Western European culture history and society from Napoleon's seizure of power to 1815 Boime argues that Napoleon manipulated the production of images as well as information generally in order to maintain his political hegemony He examines the works of French painters such as Jacques Louis David and Jean Auguste Dominique Ingres to illustrate how the art of the time helped to further the emperor's propagandistic goals He also explores the work of contemporaneous English genre painters Spain's Francisco de Goya the German Romantics Philipp Otto Runge and Caspar David Friedrich and the emergence of a national Italian art Heavily illustrated this volume is an invaluable social history of modern art during the Napoleonic era Stimulating and informative this volume will become a valuable resource for faculty and undergraduates R W Liscombe Choice
