Modern Architecture And The Critical Present:

Modern Architecture and the Critical Present Kenneth Frampton,1982 Global Perspectives on Critical Architecture Gevork Hartoonian,2016-03-03 Judging from the debates taking place in both education and practice it appears that architecture is deeply in crisis New design and production techniques together with the globalization of capital and even skilled labour have reduced architecture to a commodified object its aesthetic qualities tapping into the current pervasive desire for the spectacular These developments have changed the architect s role in the design and production processes of architecture Moreover critical architectural theories including those of Breton Heidegger and Benjamin which explored the concepts of technology modernism labour and capital and how technology informed the cultural along with later theories from the 1960s which focused more on the architect s theorization of his her own design strategies seem increasingly irrelevant In an age of digital reproduction and commodification these theoretical approaches need to be reassessed Bringing together essays and interviews from leading scholars such as Kenneth Frampton Peggy Deamer Bernard Tschumi Donald Kunze and Marco Biraghi this volume investigates and critically addresses various dimensions of the present crisis of architecture It poses questions such as Is architecture a conservative cultural product servicing a given producer consumer system Should architecture s affiliative ties with capitalism be subjected to a measure of criticism that can be expanded to the entirety of the cultural realm Is architecture s infusion into the cultural the reason for the visibility of architecture today What room does the city leave for architecture beyond the present delirium of spectacle Should the thematic of various New Left criticisms of capitalism be taken as the premise of architectural criticism Or alternatively putting the notion of criticality aside is it enough to confine criticism to the production of insightful and pleasurable texts

Architecture and the Public World Kenneth Frampton,2024-01-25 This book brings together Kenneth Frampton s essays from the 1960s to today which epitomize his reflections on the historical theoretical entanglements of architecture with place the public realm cultural identity urban landscape and environment and the political question of the predicament of architecture in the new Millennium The essays explore Frampton s contention that architecture s imperative is to assume a significant responsibility for the edification and stewardship of the Arendtian public world One of the most theoretically sophisticated and politically committed architectural thinkers Frampton s work breaks emphatically with the limits and norms of much contemporary practice and restores a sense of richness and social consequence of architecture s unfinished project while offering abiding lessons not only for architecture but for social cultural and design criticism alike Reading

Kenneth Frampton Gevork Hartoonian,2022-05-10 This book focuses on the first edition of Kenneth Frampton s Modern Architecture A Critical History published in 1980 It searches for clues and positions that will provide the reader with an unprecedented insight into the significance of Frampton s historiography of modern architecture It explores selected themes in line with Frampton s many faceted contribution certain aspects of which can be noted between the lines of his ongoing criticism of the present day architecture which inevitably lead us to a critical understanding of the past the modernity of architecture's contemporaneity. The compiled chapters attempt to open a window onto the constellation of themes that allowed Frampton to hold on to his anteroom view of history even amidst the flow of time and flood of temporalities spanning 1980-2020. The book elucidates how Frampton's critical presentation of the history of modern movement architecture and the book's classificatory mode periodization contribute to our understanding of the contemporaneity of architecture today.

Resisting Postmodern Architecture Stylianos Giamparolos, 2022-01-10 Since its first appearance in 1981 critical regionalism has enjoyed a celebrated worldwide reception. The 1990s increased its pertinence as an architectural theory that defends the cultural identity of a place resisting the homogenising onslaught of globalisation. Today its main principles such as acknowledging the climate, history, materials, culture and topography of a specific place are integrated in architects' education across the globe. But at the same time the richer cross-cultural history of critical regionalism has been reduced to schematic juxtapositions of the global with the local. Retrieving both the globalising branches and the overlooked cross-cultural roots of critical regionalism, Resisting Postmodern Architecture resituates critical regionalism within the wider framework of debates around postmodern architecture, the diverse contexts from which it emerged and the cultural media complex that conditioned its reception. In so doing, it explores the intersection of three areas of growing historical and theoretical interest: postmodernism, critical regionalism and globalisation. Based on more than 50 interviews and previously unpublished archival material from six countries, the book transgresses existing barriers to integrate sources in other languages into anglophone architectural scholarship. In so doing, it shows how the periphery was not just a passive recipient but also an active generator of architectural theory and practice. Stylianos Giamparolos challenges long held central notions of supposedly international discourses of the recent past and outlines critical regionalism as an unfinished project apposite for the 21st century on the fronts of architectural theory, history and historiography.

Race and Modern Architecture Irene Cheng, Charles L. Davis, Mabel O. Wilson, 2020-05-26 Although race a concept of human difference that establishes hierarchies of power and domination has played a critical role in the development of modern architectural discourse and practice since the Enlightenment, its influence on the discipline remains largely underexplored. This volume offers a welcome and long-awaited intervention for the field by shining a spotlight on constructions of race and their impact on architecture and theory in Europe and North America and across various global contexts since the eighteenth century. Challenging us to write race back into architectural history, contributors confront how racial thinking has intimately shaped some of the key concepts of modern architecture and culture over time including freedom, revolution, character, national and indigenous style, progress, hybridity, climate, representation and radicalism. By analyzing how architecture has intersected with histories of slavery, colonialism and inequality from eighteenth century neoclassical governmental buildings to present day housing projects for immigrants, Race and Modern Architecture challenges, complicates and revises the standard association of modern architecture with a universal project of emancipation and progress Shifting Views Andrew Leach, Antony Moulis, Nicole Sully, 2008 Shifting Views draws together a selection of writing from across twenty five years of these conferences to provide a fascinating view into the region's architectural history discipline. The essays collected here from such diverse thinkers as Judith Brine, Joan Kerr, Miles Lewis, Sarah Treadwell, Philip Goad, Julie Willis and Mike Austin reflect some of the most illuminating debates from these conferences. Together these essays capture a tone of critical inquiry and the conditions of writing architectural history in Australia and New Zealand. Shifting Views takes us into the mechanics of architectural history making, exposing its foundations and demonstrating how they can be called to account. It shows us how architectural history has been made and revised, giving us a glimpse of the means why which our past becomes our history. BOOK JACKET

Critical Theory and Public Life John Forester, 1987 Jürgen Habermas's critical communications theory of society has excited widespread interest in recent years. The essays in this book explore the research implications of Habermas's theory for the analysis of modern problems of public life. Spanning the spectrum of the social sciences the essays relate critical theory to industrial policy under advanced capitalism, education, the mass media and consumerism, public participation in planning, policy analysis and critical historical studies. John Forester is Associate Professor of City and Regional Planning at Cornell University. Critical Theory and Public Life is included in the series Studies in Contemporary German Social Thought edited by Thomas McCarthy. The Architectural Forum, 1929 Symposium Postmodernism and Beyond--Architecture as the Critical Art of Contemporary Culture, 1989 Architectural Forum, 1925 Current Literature, 1928

Engineering Magazine, 1892 The Architecture of Duany Plater-Zyberk and Company Joanna Lombard, 2005 The Architecture of Duany Plater Zyberk and Company is a monograph on the highly successful urban design and architecture firm started by Andres Duany and Elizabeth Plater Zyberk in 1980 and is now known simply as DPZ. Credited with popularizing small towns and villages as welcome alternatives to the bleak monotony of the suburbs, DPZ champions vernacular architecture, traditional buildings with ties to local culture in neighborhoods that share the same common features that made small town living so livable. This book illustrates representative buildings mainly houses that make up some of these communities in such places as Seaside, Florida, Kentlands, Maryland, and Markham, Ontario. In addition the book showcases individual buildings that demonstrate DPZ's reinvigoration of a simple vernacular architecture including the Hibiscus House in Coconut Grove, Florida and the Carambola Villas in St. Croix. Sustainable Cities Development and Environment Wei Jun Yang, 2012-10-26 Selected peer reviewed papers from the 2012 International Conference on Civil, Architectural and Hydraulic Engineering (ICCAHE 2012) August 10-12, 2012, Zhangjiajie, China. Design Book Review, 1984 Factory and Industrial Management John Robertson, Dunlap, Arthur Van Vlissingen, John M. Carmody, 1892 Journal of the Royal Institute of British Architects Royal Institute of British Architects, 1915 The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1985 Architectural Record, 1982
