This extended essay explores participatory relationships relating to the photographic painting and our mediation with these images Since the year 2000 to 2017 the exponential growth in mobile devices has enabled a greater connectivity to the Inter web enabling the uploading of individual daily experiences via social networks instantaneously sharing digitised images with families friends and strangers around the world Although some research explores the impact of social networks on the psychology of users contributions have generally been beneficial and positive particularly with social activist movements leading to greater democracy However as with all new technologies we must be cautious about how our psychology is affected and the possible detrimental effects these platforms might have on our identity and social interactions as well as controlling types of information We must be vigilant and cautious due to photographic images becoming easier to manipulate Editorially manipulated collages that form corporationist ideologies that could seek to control ways we interpret our view of the world
