Modern Chicano Writers:

Modern Chicano Writers Joseph Sommers, Tomás Ybarra-Frausto, 1979 Heirs to a cultural literacy rich in Mexican and American influences modern Chicano writers combine an urgent sense of social protest with a vibrant literary style Containing contributions from both recognized scholars such as Américo Paredes Luis Leal and Felipe Ortega and younger critics including Yvonne Yabro Bejarano Ralph Grajeda and Marta Sánchez Modern Chicano writers affirm the dynamic blending of continuity and change that characterizes the modern Chicano writer Beginning with a series of five framing articles the editors establish the literary history folk culture critical theory and sociolinguistics surrounding the Chicano people Other critiques examine the narrative techniques of Tomás Rivera and his opposing themes of resignation and rebellion the poet Alurista and his use of traditional mythology to convey contemporary social concerns and the relation of popular art to the Chicano struggle for cultural identity in El Teatro Campesino This volume presents a unique collection of critical commentaries that explore the development and future direction of modern Chicano literature Conversations with Contemporary Chicana and Chicano Writers Hector Avalos Torres, 2007 Interviews with major Chicana/o authors are the basis for this examination of the commonality of issues in the work of each of them Modern Chicano Writers Joseph Sommers, Tomás Ybarra-Frausto, 1979 Heirs to a cultural literacy rich in Mexican and American influences modern Chicano writers combine an urgent sense of social protest with a vibrant literary style Containing contributions from both recognized scholars such as Américo Paredes Luis Leal and Felipe Ortega and younger critics including Yvonne Yabro Bejarano Ralph Grajeda and Marta Sánchez Modern Chicano writers affirm the dynamic blending of continuity and change that characterizes the modern Chicano writer Beginning with a series of five framing articles the editors establish the literary history folk culture critical theory and sociolinguistics surrounding the Chicano people Other critiques examine the narrative techniques of Tomás Rivera and his opposing themes of resignation and rebellion the poet Alurista and his use of traditional mythology to convey contemporary social concerns and the relation of popular art to the Chicano struggle for cultural identity in El Teatro Campesino This volume presents a unique collection of critical commentaries that explore the development and future direction of modern Chicano literature Chicano Identity in Chicano Fiction Markus Widmer, 2003-06-30 Seminar paper from the year 1998 in the subject American Studies Literature grade 2 B University of Aberdeen English Department course Chicano Fiction language English abstract In this essay I will address the question of Chicano identity by investigating two very different texts that both deal with a quest for identity in a Mexican American context Tomás Rivera's And the Earth Did Not Devour Him and Richard Rodriguez Hunger of Memory The Education of Richard Rodriguez I will first discuss the contextual differences between the two works Then I will consider the definitions of identity upon which the texts are based Going deeper into the works themselves I will finally discuss along which lines the two quests for identity develop In conclusion I will connect my investigations to the question of whether Chicano identity is unified or fragmented Both Tomás

Rivera's And the Earth Did Not Devour Him and Richard Rodriguez' Hunger of Memory are about an individual searching for his identity. In both works the protagonist is a Mexican American or Chicano. However, the differences between the two books are huge. The generic difference is most obvious. Rivera's work is a fictional narrative, which Héctor Calderón termed novel as tales. Rodriguez referring to his book speaks of essays impersonating an autobiography (p. 7). This entails that the subject searching for identity is in Rodriguez's case the author himself or rather his literary image. In Rivera's case the subject is purely fictional, although some critics have identified this literary subject with the author.

Contemporary Chicano Fiction

Vernon E. Lattin, 1986. This work provides the most comprehensive critical coverage of Chicano fiction to date. The papers in this volume cover all the major figures in Chicano fiction of the 1960s and 1970s as well as the theory of the Chicano novel, New Mexican narratives and the urban experience in Chicano fiction. Ernestina N. Eger has produced an extensive bibliography of criticism on Chicano fiction, an outstanding scholarly contribution.

Contemporary Chicano Literature Ernestina N. Eger, 1982    Chicano Renaissance David R. Maciel, Isidro D. Ortiz, María Herrera-Sobek, 2022-08-23. Among the lasting legacies of the Chicano Movement is the cultural flowering that it inspired, one that has steadily grown from the 1960s to the present. It encompassed all of the arts and continues to earn acclaim both nationally and internationally. Although this Chicano artistic renaissance received extensive scholarly attention in its initial phase, the post-Movimiento years after the late 1970s have been largely overlooked. This book meets that need, demonstrating that despite the changes that have taken place in all areas of Chicana/o arts, a commitment to community revitalization continues to underlie artistic expression. This collection examines changes across a broad range of cultural forms: art, literature, music, cinema, and television, radio and theater, with an emphasis on the last two decades. Original articles by both established and emerging scholars review such subjects as the growth of Tejano music and the rise of Selena; how films and television have affected the Chicana/o experience; the evolution of Chicana/o art over the last twenty years; and postmodern literary trends. In all of the essays, the contributors emphasize that, contrary to the popular notion that Chicanas/os have succumbed to a victim mentality, they continue to actively struggle to shape the conditions of their lives and to influence the direction of American society through their arts and social struggle. Despite decades usually associated with self-interest in the larger society the spirit of commitment and empowerment has continued to infuse Chicana/o cultural expression and points toward a vibrant future

The sixteen original essays by scholars from around the world examine concerns common to writers who experience marginalization based upon their inescapable identification with two or more cultures From Australian aboriginal and Maori to Irish Maghrebian and South African and on to the rich ethnic mix in North America the book considers fiction, poetry, autobiography and anthropological reportage to raise questions as determinative as one's choice of language one's presentation of self in society one's recovery of a history This collection serves as a bridge between recent Eurocentric postmodern discourse dealing with the breakdown of the modernist stability in art, architecture and electronic media and those recent studies that problematize the issue of racial identity and literary practice Cross Addressing discusses site specific strategies of resistance to the imposition of identity in the terms imposed or implied by colonizers and their descendants narrative, empowerment, gender reconstruction, racial decategorization, an intersection of marginalities and a cross-cultural Third World solidarity The movement is from the individual to the collective, from the particular to the global The theoretical approach is eclectic echoing the current split in cultural studies between discussions of the cultural production of meaning and an involvement in policy debates The book contends that the heightened consciousness resulting from marginalization not only judges our world but offers it a window onto its future possibilities Contributors include Lyn McCredden, Suzette Henke, Trevor James, Mary O'Connor, S.
