The Scribner Book of Irish Writing John Somer, John J. Daly, 2001 From a nation of storytellers comes this rich dramatic collection of short fiction that demonstrates the power vitality and diversity of the modern Irish story From writers whose work has become synonymous with the contemporary Irish literary renaissance such as John Banville Neil Jordan and Patrick McCabe to a host of fresh voices that represent the emerging vanguard of Irish fiction this extraordinary group of short stories showcases where Irish writers are now as well as where they are headed Fourfront Micheál Ó Conghaile, Pádraic Breathnach, Dara Ó Conaola, Alan Titley, 1998 Despite the richness of the short story in Irish literature there remains a relative absence of stories translated from the Irish This collection of stories aims to help fill this gap Micheal O Conghaile is one of Ireland's foremost contemporary Irish language prose writers His stories are filled with dissidents and rebels protagonists who find themselves suddenly revealed as errata in someone else's master narrative Pádraic Breathnach is probably the most prolific short story writer in Irish with over 150 The four included here show isolated individuals struggling against inherited authority structures and they may tell us more than any sociologist about the destiny of community He is glorious and unmatched in his depiction of decay the decay of social cultural and moral fabrics of landscape and mind gone to seed Dara O Conaola's stories share a real generic affinity with that other favored form of Gaelic tradition the lyric poem His stories are full of wonder and imagination Lastly Alan Titley is probably best known as a novelist Politically his stories probably represent a more radical subversive side while his language reveals a linguistic virtuosity that verges on
