Modern Landscape:

Modern Landscape Architecture Marc Treib, 1994-07-25 Twenty two essays that provide a forum for assessing the tenets accomplishments and limits of modernism in landscape architecture and for formulating ideas about possible directions for the future of the discipline These twenty two essays provide a rich forum for assessing the tenets accomplishments and limits of modernism in landscape architecture and for formulating ideas about possible directions for the future of the discipline During the 1930s Garrett Eckbo Dan Kiley and James Rose began to integrate modernist architectural ideas into their work and to design a landscape more in accord with the life and sensibilities of their time Together with Thomas Church whose gardens provided the setting for California living they laid the foundations for a modern American landscape design This first critical assessment of modern landscape architecture brings together seminal articles from the 1930s and 1940s by Eckbo Kiley Rose Fletcher Steele and Christopher Tunnard and includes contributions by contemporary writers and designers such as Peirce Lewis Catherine Howett John Dixon Hunt Peter Walker and Martha Schwartz who examine the historical and cultural framework within which modern landscape designers have worked There are also essays by Lance Necker Reuben Rainey Gregg Bleam Michael Laurie and Marc Treib that discuss the designs and legacy of the Americans Tunnard Eckbo Church Kiley and Robert Irwin Dorothee Imbert takes up Pierre Emile Legrain and French modernist gardens of the 1920s and Thorbjørn Andersson reviews experiments with stylized naturalism developed by Erik Glemme and others in the Stockholm park system Modern Landscape Architecture Jory Johnson, 1991

Modern Landscape Michael Spens, 2003-07 An in depth analysis of contemporary landscape architecture of the past decade Garrett Eckbo Marc Treib, Dorothee Imbert, 1997 The man and his work are given an appreciative investigation in Garrett Eckbo Modern Landscapes for Living a detailed and elegant study that features more than sixty of his projects many published here for the first time Marc Treib examines the aesthetic formation of Eckbo's manner and by implication the broader field of landscape architecture since the 1930s Dorothee Imbert writes of Eckbo's social vision noting his belief that ultimately landscape design is the arrangement of environments for people The book includes an afterword by Garrett Eckbo a memoir by photographer Julius Shulman a biographical and professional chronology and a bibliography of publications by and about the landscape architect and his contemporaries Modern Landscape Design ICI Consultants, 2014-11-15 This book gives an overview of contemporary French landscape architecture to position it and to offer an immediate and useful resource for policy makers and professionals involved in this field as well as for everyone who plays a part consciously or not in the history of today's landscape Inventing American Modernism Jill E. Pearlman, 2007 In this book Jill Pearlman argues that Gropius did not effect changes alone and further that the Harvard Graduate School of Design was not merely an offshoot of the Bauhaus She offers a crucial missing piece to the story and to the history of modern architecture by focusing on Joseph Hudnut the school's dean and founder BOOK JACKET Landscape Modernism Renounced David Jacques, Jan

Woudstra,2012-09-10 Before the Second World War landscape architect Christopher Tunnard was the first author on Modernism in Landscape in the English language but later became alarmed by the destructive forces of Post war reconstruction Between the 1950s and the 1970s he was in the forefront of the movement to save the city becoming an acclaimed author sympathetic to preservation Ironically it was the Modernist ethos that he had so fervently advocated before the war that was the justification for the dismemberment of great cities by officials engineers and planners This was not the first time that Tunnard had to re evaluate his principles as he had done so in the 1930s in rejecting Arts and Crafts in favour of Modernism This book tracks his changing ideology by reference to his writings his colleagues and his work Christopher Tunnard is one of the most influential figures in Landscape Architecture and his journey is one that still resonates in the discipline today His leading role in first embracing the tenets of Modernism and then moving away from to embrace a more conservationist approach can be seen in the success and impact on the profession of those with whom he worked and taught

Gardens in the Modern Landscape Christopher Tunnard,1948      Groundswell Peter Reed,2005-02-11 Presents twenty three projects that reveal the surge of creativity and discussion surrounding the designed landscape in a broad principally urban international context In the last twenty years many significant new public spaces have been created for sites that have been reclaimed from conflict environmental degradation and abandonment The projects found throughout North America Europe Asia and the Middle East were selected for their outstanding design and to demonstrate a variety of scales contexts materials and types of spaces This fully illustrated volume includes an essay by Peter Reed Curator in the Department of Architecture and Design at The Museum of Modern Art that demonstrates how these innovative projects expand the definition of the modernist landscape while responding to a variety of conditions such as program social function and the transformation and reclamation of formerly industrial area The essay is followed by a full color plate section featuring the selected projects Catalogue entries for each project provide a succinct description of the site its transformation and design concepts illustrated by photographs drawings and models      Park and Cemetery and Landscape Gardening

,1916      Hybrid Modernity Mary Padua,2020-07-26 This book provides a detailed historical and design analysis of the development of parks and modern landscape architecture in late 20th century China It questions whether the fusion of international influences with the local Chinese design vocabulary in late 20th century China has created a distinctive and novel approach to the design of public parks Hybrid Modernity proposes a new theory for examining the design of public parks built in post Mao China since the reforms and sets the various processes for China s late 20th century socio cultural context Drawing on modernization theory research on China s modernity local and global cultural trends it illustrates through a range of case studies ways hybrid modernity defines a new design genre and language for the spatial forms of parks that emerged in China s secondary cities Featured case studies include the Living Water Park in Chengdu Sichuan province Zhongshan Shipyard Park in Guangdong Province Jinji Lake Landscape Master Plan in Suzhou Jiangsu province and the West Lake Southern Scenic Area Master Plan in Hangzhou Zhejiang province This book argues that these forms represent a new stage in China s history of landscape architecture The work reveals that as a new profession landscape architecture has greatly contributed to China s massive urban experiment This book is an ideal read for students enrolled in landscape architecture architecture fine arts and urban planning programs who are engaged in learning the arts and international design education

Shaping the Surface explores the history of modern British architecture through the lens of surface materiality and decoration Picking up on a trait that art historian Nikolaus Pevsner first identified as a national mania for beautiful surface quality this book makes a new contribution to architectural history and visual culture in its detailed examination of the surfaces of British architecture from the middle of the 19th century up to the turn of the 21st century Tracing this continuing sensibility to surface all the way through to the modern era it explores how and why surface and materiality have featured so heavily in recent architectural tradition examining the history of British architecture through a selection of key cultural moments and movements from Romanticism and the Arts and Crafts to Brutalism High Tech Post Modernism Neo Vernacular and the New Materiality Embedded within the narrative is the question of whether such national characters can exist in architecture at all and indeed the extent to which it is possible to identify a British architectural consciousness in an architectural tradition characterised by its continuous importation of theories ideas materials and people from around the globe Shaping the Surface provides a deep critique and meditation on the importance of surface and materiality for architects designers and historians everywhere in Britain and beyond while it also serves as a thematic introduction to modern British architectural history with in depth readings of the works of many key British architects artists and critics from Ruskin and William Morris to Alison and Peter Smithson Eduardo Paolozzi Richard Rogers and Caruso St John
