Modern Persian:

Modern Persian: A Course-Book Simin Abrahams, 2004-08-02 Modern Persian begins with the teaching of the Persian alphabet. It aims to provide the student with the necessary skills for social interaction as well as a basis for the study of modern literature. The course consists of seventeen units and favours teaching by communicative and contextual learning. Most units begin with a reading exercise used to introduce an item of grammar and new vocabulary followed by explanations and drill exercises aimed at consolidating the student's understanding. Complete with Persian-English vocabulary to all the exercises and tape recordings, this is an up-to-date textbook which can be used both by teachers or individuals wishing to learn Persian independently.

Modern Persian Prose Literature Hassan Kamshad, 1966 This 1966 book provides a series of concise, accessible essays reflecting on the development of Persian fiction during the modern period. The structure of the text is broadly chronological, with chapters allocated to key authors, literary movements and social changes. This is a valuable volume for anyone interested in Persian literature.

A Modern Persian Prose Reader Hassan Kamshad, H. Kamshad, 2011-04-28 This volume of Persian language texts contains representative passages from the works of major Persian writers.

Modern Persian Donald L. Stilo, Kamran Talattof, Jerome W. Clinton, 2005 Although Persian is one of the world's oldest languages in its modern form, it is still spoken by more than forty million people in Iran and by more than twenty million people elsewhere. These volumes provide students from beginning to intermediate levels with a mastery of modern Persian, also known as farsi, and with an understanding of colloquial Persian. The books offer extended vocabulary, grammar, and essays on aspects of Iranian culture. Volume 1 emphasizes speaking and understanding, and Volume 2 focuses on the written language. The first to teach Persian as a living language, Modern Persian incorporates the most effective methodologies and the most recent cultural and linguistic changes occurring in Iran. Donald Stilo is a scientist at Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology in Leipzig, Germany, working on the Northwest Iranian Language Project in the Linguistics Department. Kamran Talattof is associate professor of Near Eastern Studies at the University of Arizona, Tucson. Jerome W. Clinton was professor of Near Eastern Studies at Princeton University.

Modern Spoken Persian in Contemporary Iranian Novels Katarzyna Wąsala, 2024-10-07 One of the characteristic features of the linguistic situation of contemporary Iran is the coexistence of two standards of Modern Persian: the written and the spoken. While literature is generally composed in the written variety, the typically spoken forms are also to be found in the literary text. Modern Spoken Persian in Contemporary Iranian Novels is a study of these. A scrupulous analysis of five carefully selected novels with methods drawing mostly from the register analysis seeks answers to questions such as: what features are characteristic to the spoken variety of language; how are they woven into the literary language; does the relationship between spoken and written registers change over time; and how can this process affect the future development of Persian language.
